" GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL,

" MR. SPEAKER, AND GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSEMBLY,

" The renewal of the war with France and Holland, and the critical circumstances in which the kingdom of Great-Britain and its colonies are thereby placed, would have strongly induced me to convene you at an earlier period, had not the usual season for the meeting of the legislature been so near.

" I speak with great confidence, when I express the most sanguine hope, that the loyal inhabitants of Jamaica will vie with their brother-subjects of the mother-country in their unanimous and firm determination to defend their properties, with every thing that is most dear to them, against the usurpations of a government, which has set no bounds to its military executions and atrocities, wherever it has pleased Divine Providence to permit its arms to be successful.

" MR. SPEAKER, AND GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSEMBLY,

" I trust you will agree with me in opinion that no sacrifices can be too great to preserve the birth-rights of British subjects, and that, with your usual liberality upon extraordinary emergencies, you will grant such supplies as may essentially relieve the mother-country from a share of the great burdens which press so heavily upon her at the present moment.

" GENTLEMEN

"GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL,

"MR. SPEAKER, AND GENTLEMEN OF THE ASSEMBLY,

"At the same time that the government of Great-Britain continues to afford the most effectual protection to the island of Jamaica, I shall not fail to co-operate with you in every measure, which may best promote its welfare, and tend to its security and tranquillity."

" JAMAICA, ss.

" To his honour lieutenant-general GEORGE NUGENT, lieutenant-governor and commander in chief of this his majesty's island of Jamaica, and the territories thereon depending in America, chancellor and vice-admiral of the same,

THE HUMBLE ADDRESS OF THE ASSEMBLY:

" MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR,

" The renewal of war, and the important events which have placed Great-Britain and her dependencies in so critical a situation, must have deeply impressed you honour's mind for the safety of this colony: We feel that our sincerest thanks are due to your honour for not having convened us before the usual season for the meeting of the legislature.

" We are proud to assert, that the loyalty of the inhabitants of Jamaica has ever been conspicuous, and that in the present awful and important crisis, involving the fate of the British empire, we shall not be found wanting in exertions and sacrifices to secure to this colony the enviable inheritance of British subjects.

" Your honour may rely with confidence upon our providing such supplies, as the exigencies of the government of this colony may require; and we deeply lament that our increased burthens, and diminished means, have exhausted those sources of liberality, which we should have felt it a duty to call forth, at a moment like the present.

" At the same time that the government of Great-Britain continues to afford its protection to the island of Jamaica, we beg leave to assure your honour of our cheerful co-operation in every measure, which may best promote its welfare, and tend to its security and tranquillity."

"That the petitioner, being obliged by law to reside in the maroon-town, where there is no house, or any other accommodation for the superintendent, is thereby put to great inconvenience and expence."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of Philip Ellis, superintendent of the Charles-Town maroons, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioner labours under very great inconveniencies, by the great rise of the necessaries of life, since the legislature first appointed salaries to the superintendents."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. George.

A petition of sundry freeholders and inhabitants of St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the sum of 100*l.* was granted last session towards repairing and improving the road from Dry-River, to the church, court-house, and place of general muster, at Buff-Bay, in the said parish:

"That the said road, by forming a junction with the Dry-River road, will be of great advantage to the inhabitants of St. George and Portland, by shortening the distance considerably, and avoiding many dangerous fords of Wag-Water River:

"That this grant has been faithfully worked on said road, together with the allotments of the vestry, but has proved inadequate."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of sundry freeholders and inhabitants of St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the house granted the sum of 150*l.* last year to carry a road through a rock, to avoid two very dangerous fordings up Buff-Bay river road, leading from Charles-Town to Tranquillity plantation:

"That the said sum of 150*l.* was very inadequate to open the said road for travellers to pass."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. George and Kingston.

A petition of sundry freeholders and inhabitants of St. George and Kingston was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the grant of last session, towards completing the new road from the junction of Bautima with Swift-River, in St. George's, to Silver-Hill, in St. Andrew's, has been expended in widening the original track in the interior, and making it rideable; and that the road so widened, it is supposed, is not more than two miles from the intersection of the new road from Chepstow:

"That, about May or June last, the commissioners of forts and fortifications gave an order for a cask of gunpowder for removing the rocks; but hitherto no opportunity has occurred of sending it:

"That further aid towards completing the said road is necessary."

And praying for relief.

A petition

A petition of sundry freeholders and inhabitants of Port-Royal and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from Port-Royal and St. George.

" That the petitioners have, at a great expence, made a road from Chepstow, in St. George, to intersect the road from the late Mr. Woolfrys's plantation, in Port-Royal mountains, to Kingston; which road will be of the greatest utility to the public, as it will shorten the distance from the windward part of St. George and Portland to Kingston about fifteen miles, as appears by the diagram presented to the house last session, and will also be the means of settling large tracts of land in that part of the country:

" That the grant of last year has been carefully expended, aided by considerable private contributions, but the road is still too narrow, and will require a considerable further expence to make it safe."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders and inhabitants of St. Ann was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. Ann.

" That some time past a new road, commonly called Voce's road, leading from St. Ann's Bay along the westernmost bank of Negro-River, was laid out; which, after certain grants thereon from the house, and after a toll granted thereon by an act of assembly, passed in the year 1800, together with large parochial allotments, has been made a good carriage-road as far as Belle-Grove, about three miles distant from St. Ann's Bay, the extent prescribed by the turnpike act:

" That the continuation of the said road from Belle-Grove to the top of the south hill, near Winefield, will, by being made a good carriage-road, not only render the mode of travelling to the interior settlements and south side of the island much more expeditious and less fatiguing, inasmuch as a direct easy communication with the great interior road may be thereby effected, and be of general benefit in opening a free and easy passage due south to Clarendon, from whence a new road, called doctor Dick's road, has been laid out, and considerable sums of money worked thereon, to communicate at the said top of the hill near Winefield; but it will also tend more speedily to pay off the principal and interest of the monies, for the payment of which the said toll was granted:

" That the justices and vestry of the said parish of St. Ann, have granted large allotments on the said road from Belle-Grove to the top of the hill near Winefield, but which allotments have not been sufficient, nor can the parochial grants alone be adequate to complete the said road."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders and other inhabitants of St. Ann was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That although the various sums granted from time to time for the purpose of altering and amending the great road of communication from Dry-Harbour to Cave-River, through the mountains of St. Ann, commonly known by the name of the Clarendon road, have been faithfully and diligently worked out, yet the said road is by no means completed."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above six petitions be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

Charles Douglas's petition.

A petition of Charles Douglas, superintendent of the Moore-Town maroons, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioner labours under many inconveniencies, from the very great increase of the price of the necessaries of life, since the legislature first established the salaries of the superintendents."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of Charles Douglas, superintendent of the Moore-Town maroons, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioner is obliged to be at a considerable expence for a house, at at the negro-town, for his residence, and for doing the business of the maroons."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above three returns and two petitions be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take into consideration the state of the island.

A petition of sundry freeholders and other inhabitants of St. John was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. John.

"That the several grants of money voted by the late assembly, to be laid out on the new road from Swansea estate, in the Vale of Luidas, to the boundary of the parish of St. Ann, near George Taylor's settlement, have been faithfully expended, with the strictest economy:

"That the said road, even in its present imperfect state, has been found of advantage to the country beyond all calculation; but that, in order to render it complete, and those advantages permanent, the further aid of the public will be absolutely necessary."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry inhabitants of Port-Royal and St. David was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from Port-Royal and St David.

"That the road leading from M'Corty's ford to Tranquillity plantation, the property of Mr. De la Villeon, in the parish of Port-Royal, is in a very dangerous state, it having been originally improperly laid out:

"That the petitioners have, at a very considerable expence, been under the necessity of altering entirely near four miles of the track, as will appear by the diagram annexed; that there has never been any public grant upon the said road; and it is the track to many considerable plantations settled and now settling in the said parishes."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above two petitions be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

A petition of Abraham David Nunes Henriques, gentleman, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, A. D. N. Henriques's petition.

"That, by indenture of marriage settlement, dated the 8th day of February, 1792, between Alexandre Lindo of the first part, the petitioner and Mary-Ann Lindo, now the petitioner's wife, of the second part, David Bravo and David Feurtado, trustees for the purposes therein mentioned, of the third part, vesting real and personal estate to the amount of 10,000*l.* in the said trustees, the said trustees are directed, out of the rents, profits, interest, or other emoluments, which should come to their hands, of the trust properties or securities, to pay into the hands of the said Mary-Ann, now the petitioner's wife, the annual interest of 10,000*l.* at 6*l. per cent.* during her life, independent of the petitioner; and, in case of her death before the petitioner, then that the said interest should be paid to him during his life, and the overplus (if any) should be laid out, first, towards the keeping in repair, and improvement of, the trust properties; thereafter, at the discretion of the petitioner and his said wife, and the survivor, in any eligible purchase of negroes, messuages, land, or other property, which should go with, and be subject to, the uses, trusts, and limitations, in the said indenture mentioned; and, after the decease of the petitioner and his wife, then the said sum of 10,000*l.* and all securities therefore, then subsisting, together with all acquired property, should go equally amongst the children of the marriage, in fee; and, in case of the death of the petitioner and his wife, leaving no issue, then to the use of Abraham Lindo, Joseph Lindo, David Lindo, Rachel Franco, wife of Moses Franco, and Esther Belisario, wife of Abraham Mendes Belisario, sons and daughters of the said Alexandre Lindo, in fee, share and share alike; and referring to the said indenture, recorded in the secretary's office:

"That, by means of the said trust properties and securities, considerable sums have, at various times, come to the hands of the trustees, which have been laid out in certain real estate, the titles whereof have been made to the said trustees, upon the trusts in the said indenture expressed:

"That divers of the now trust premises are unproductive, but other parts might be sold to great advantage, and the trust funds much improved:

"That no clause has been inserted in the said indenture, to enable the trustees to convey the properties belonging to the trust, which, in the judgment of the parties interested, might be to the benefit thereof, and of increasing the funds; for doing whereof several opportunities have occurred:

"That the petitioner and his said wife have issue five children, all infants of tender years:

"That the said Alexandre Lindo, Abraham Lindo, Joseph Lindo, David Lindo, Moses Franco and Rachel his wife, and Abraham Mendes Belisario and Esther his wife, the persons in whom, in failure of issue of the petitioner's marriage, the remainder in fee in the trust premises is limited, together with the petitioner and his wife, are desirous that the trustees should have power to sell or dispose of all or any part of the trust premises, as opportunity should offer, to increase the funds of the trust, and to lay out the proceeds in other properties, or in the public funds of Great-Britain, upon the same trusts as by the marriage settlement is declared; but, as the children of the petitioner are infants, no such power can be given without the aid of the legislature."

And praying that the house will grant leave to bring in a bill for such purpose.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Farmer, Mr. Stewart (of Port-Royal), and Mr. Shaw (of Kingston); that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

"That the petitioner has lately made, at a great expence, a new waggon-road between Arthur's Seat and Pindar's Valley estate in the parish of Clarendon:

"That the petitioner has had a large gang of negroes, sometimes not less than an hundred, employed, with very little intermission, for more than four years past, in completing the said road, and the road from Arthur's Seat to his estate called Kellitt's, situate nearly in the centre of the island:

"That the said road has already occasioned the settling of many extensive coffee-plantations in that district, and, when finished, will certainly encourage the making of easy roads of communication through the interior, and the further settling one of the most extensive tracts of wood-land now in the island:

"That the money granted by the house, for continuing the said road through the lands of the reverend Arthur Iredell, has been faithfully expended; but, from the extreme difficulty of the undertaking, much remains to be done:

"That the petitioner is at this time using his best exertions to complete this part of the road, but the expence greatly exceeds any private advantage he may receive from the same."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

A petition

A petition of the proprietors and lessees of public wharves in the city of Kingston was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition of proprietors of wharves in Kingston.

" That, in the 25th year of the reign of his present majesty, an act passed the legislature of this island, for regulating the wharfage and storage of goods and merchandise throughout this island, and settling the rates thereof:

" That the rates limited by that act were found long ago to be, in respect to the city of Kingston, totally inadequate; and, in consequence, an act of the legislature of this island was passed in the year of his present majesty, granting a considerable relief to the petitioners, by an augmentation of the rates of wharfage and storage:

" That the said act, having passed during the late war, had reference to that event, and was limited in its operation till the termination of hostilities:

" That the petitioners are now restricted to the rates of wharfage passed so many years ago, and which rates were proportioned to the expences of keeping and conducting wharves at that period, since when it is so notorious and evident that the charges and expences of all kinds have in most instances been doubled, that the petitioners need hardly insist thereon."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Shaw (of Kingston), Mr. Farmer, and Mr. Jaques; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

" That the same is run out a great distance into the sea (where there is a heavy surf kept up), at a heavy expence, and very subject to be carried away:

" That the present rates of wharfage are not adequate to the expences of the same."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Taylor, Mr. Telfer, and Mr. Ker; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

A petition of sundry fishermen of the city and parish of Kingston, and its vicinity, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition of sundry fishermen of Kingston.

" That, in and by a certain act of the legislature of this island, passed in the 10th year of the reign of her late majesty queen Ann, entitled, ' An act for regulating fowling and fishing,' it is enacted, among other things, ' That no person or persons whatsoever do, by themselves, servants, or slaves, from and after the 1st day of January then next ensuing, make use of any sein, net or nets, or engine for catching of fish, in any harbour, bay, creek, or pond, in or about this island, with less meshes than one inch and a quarter between knot and knot of any such net or nets so made use of, excepting shrimp nets;' and it is, in and by the said act, further enacted, ' That whosoever shall offend, contrary to the true intent and meaning of the said act, shall, for every offence, being convicted thereof before any magistrate of this island, forfeit the sum of 40*s.* :'

" That the petitioners are informed, that, notwithstanding the passing of the said act, which still remains unrepealed, yet that the same hath never, within the memory of the oldest of the petitioners, or any of the inhabitants of the said city, been acted under, or enforced; and although the petitioners, following the custom of their predecessors, have constantly, until lately, used nets made with meshes of smaller dimensions than those specified in the said act, yet no complaint hath ever been made of the decrease of fish within the harbour of Kingston, or the limits thereof:

" That, since the passing of an act of the legislature of this island, entitled, ' An act for constituting a corporation for better ordering and managing of the police of the town and parish of Kingston, and for other purposes relative to the parish of Kingston, with proper and adequate powers,' the mayor, aldermen, and common council of the said city and parish of Kingston, have made and published an ordinance, enacting, ' That from and after the 2d day of May now last past, no sein or net for catching fish (shrimp nets only excepted) shall be used within the said city and parish, having meshes in any part of such sein or net of less dimensions than one inch and one quarter of an inch between knot and knot, under the penalty of being fined in a sum not exceeding 50*l.* :

" That, in order to comply with the said ordinance, the petitioners have, at great expence, trouble, and loss of time, made new nets, containing meshes of the dimensions therein specified; but which, after the test of several months experience, they have found to be nearly useless, and inadequate to the purposes of their business, the petitioners not having been able, since the said ordinance took effect, to take fish sufficient to support themselves and to defray their necessary contingent expences:

" That the meshes of the nets being one inch and a quarter from knot to knot, the same become, when extended, nearly two inches and an half in length, through which fish of several pounds weight can easily pass, and the petitioners are thereby prevented from catching sprats, herrings, sinnets, cutlass fish, and divers other small but full sized fish of various descriptions, which, from their quantity and cheapness, used to be the chief support of the poorer class of the inhabitants of the said city, but which they are now deprived of, and the petitioners have also lost the principal source of support for the negroes employed in their business:

" That, by the length of such meshes, the net is very much weakened, particularly in the bunt or centre thereof, where the force or pressure of the fish is greatest, insomuch that fish of a large size frequently break and force themselves through the same, and the petitioners find, from experience, that a net containing meshes of such dimensions, will not last one-third of the time that nets containing smaller meshes will do:

" That all the materials of which the nets are composed have, within these few years past, increased in price 100 per cent. whereby each net, which is one hundred and twenty fathoms long, now costs the petitioners 100*l.* at the least, exclusive of the labour bestowed on knitting and making the same; and the canoes used by the petitioners have also increased in price in the same ratio; whilst, on the other hand, the petitioners' profits, since making their nets according to law, have diminished nearly one half:

" That, if the petitioners are allowed to make the meshes of their nets in the bunt or centre thereof, which is sixteen fathoms long, six-eighths or three-quarters ters of an inch between knot and knot, the grievances complained of by the petitioners will be greatly remedied, and that without detriment to the public, as the small fry or spawn of fish will be equally preserved, by their being enabled to pass through the meshes of the other parts of the net not reduced in dimensions:

"That the petitioners have represented their case to the mayor, aldermen, and common council of the said city and parish of Kingston, but the petitioners were informed, that they could grant them no redress while the said act continued in force and unrepealed."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Christie, Mr. Stewart (of Port-Royal), Mr. Jaques, Mr. Farmer, and Mr. Shaw (of Kingston); that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house; that they have power to send for persons, papers, and records; and to examine all persons that shall come before them, in the most solemn manner.

Report from special committee.

Mr. Shand, from the committee, appointed to prepare an answer to his honour the lieutenant-governor's message of Tuesday last, reported one resolution, which he read in his place, and delivered in at the table; where being again read, is as follows:

That it be recommended to the house, to send a message to the lieutenant-governor, in answer to his message of the 8th instant, acquainting him that the house have given the most mature consideration to his honour's message, desiring to have the future direction and controul of the barrack department:

That, sensible of his honour's earnest desire to promote the interest of the country, the house have to lament that the measure proposed does not appear to them likely to produce the advantages expected, and is liable to objections of a nature the most important:

That the house, with the utmost deference, think it their duty to represent to his honour, that the lieutenant-governor and commander in chief of this island, where the money for the barrack department is raised on the people, is placed in a situation very different from general officers commanding upon establishments, of which Great-Britain supports the charge, and exacts a rigid account of the expenditure:

That to have a regular estimate of all expences whatever intended to be incurred, an opportunity of discussing and determining whether they are for the advantage of the country, and of considering whether our constituents are at the time in a situation to support them, is the highest privilege of this house; and

and to place the funds granted in hands, from whom an account of the appropriations can be exacted and compelled, their bounden duty:

That a dereliction of this constitutional controul, so anxiously guarded by former assemblies, would be sacrificing the dearest rights of our constituents:

That the house have, on all occasions, been ready to co-operate with the commander in chief in any measures proposed, for doing justice to the troops, or promoting economy in the public expenditure; and that, when his honour shall be pleased to lay before the house any specific propositions for attaining objects so desirable, they shall receive the most serious consideration:

Ordered,

That the above report be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island:

Resolved,

Then the house adjourned till Tuesday morning next, nine of the clock.

☞ By virtue of an order of the house, I do appoint Alexander Aikman and Son to print these Notes, and that no other person do presume to print the same.

PHILIP REDWOOD, Speaker.

Martis, 15° die Novembris, 1803.

Rum duty bill passed.

Papers. THE engrossed bill for laying a duty on all wines, and upon brandy, gin, rum, and other distilled spirits, retailed within this island; and for laying a further tax on licences to be granted for the retailing of brandy, gin, rum, and other distilled spirits, and on the public offices; and applying the same to several uses, was read the third time:

Resolved,

That the said bill do pass:

Ordered,

That Mr. Dawson, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Sheriff, Mr. Stewart (of Trelawny), and Mr. Smith, be a committee to carry the above engrossed bill to the council, and desire their concurrence thereto; who returning, reported the delivery thereof.

Resolution respecting the appointment of a librarian amended, and agreed to.

The resolution moved in the house on Friday last, respecting the appointment of a librarian, having lain three days on the table, agreeably to the rule of the house, being again read, was amended, and agreed to, and is as follows:

Resolved,

That Mr. Speaker do appoint a librarian, at a salary, not exceeding 100*l.* a-year, for which this or any future assembly will provide; the duty of which librarian it shall be to keep an account, at all times, of the books belonging to the house, to take care of the same, and to have at all times arranged on the table, in proper order, all such books as are wanted for daily use.

Committee on state of the island,

The house, according to order, resolved itself into a committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island:

Mr. Speaker left the chair.

Mr. Murphy took the chair of the committee.

Mr. Speaker resumed the chair.

Report one resolution.

Mr. Murphy, from the committee, reported one resolution, which he read in his place, and delivered in at the table; where being again read, was agreed unto by the house, and is as follows:

That it be recommended to the house, to send a message to his honour, in answer to his message of the 8th instant, acquainting him that the house have given the most mature consideration to his honour's message, desiring to have the future direction and controul of the barrack department, and referring to an answer of the late assembly to his honour's message to them, in June, 1802.

That the house, having the most perfect conviction of his honour's earnest desire at all times to promote the interest of the country, are necessarily predisposed in favour of any measure, recommended by his honour to them as likely to produce beneficial effects to the public, and cannot fail to regret when an occasion arises, wherein, upon full deliberation, they find themselves under a necessity of not acceding to what is so proposed:

That the house, with the utmost deference, think it proper to represent to his honour, that, in the establishment alluded to by his honour, the people are not burthened more or less in proportion as the expenditures for the barrack department are increased or diminished; consequently they have no concern either either in the quantum of those expences, or in the time of the expenditure: In this colony the case is the very reverse:

That to have a regular estimate of all expences whatever intended to be incurred, an opportunity of discussing and determining whether they are for the advantage of the country, and of considering whether our constituents are at the time in a situation to support them, is an important privilege of the house of assembly, which cannot be waved or foregone, consistently with a due regard to one of the most sacred trusts reposed by the people in their representatives:

That the house, being sincerely disposed to co-operate with his honour in measures for doing justice to the troops, and promoting economy in the public expenditure, his honour may rest assured that, whenever he shall be pleased to lay before the house any specific propositions for attaining objects so desirable, they shall receive the most serious consideration.

Then Mr. Murphy acquainted the house, that the committee had directed him to move the house for leave to sit again:

Resolved,

That this house will again, to-morrow, resolve itself into a committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

A message from his honour the lieutenant-governor, by his secretary, as follows:

Message from his honour, respecting foreigners.

"MR. SPEAKER,

"I am commanded by the lieutenant-governor to state to the house, that his honour having found it necessary to cause to be apprehended a considerable number of foreigners of all colours and descriptions in Kingston, who were generally considered as dangerous persons to be permitted to remain at large, and to have them confined and subsisted until they could be transported from the island, his honour trusts that the house will defray the expences attending those services, which will be immediately laid before them, up to as late a period as possible.

"The court of common council of Kingston having also transmitted to the lieutenant-governor part of a report of their committee, which relates to the number and classes of foreigners residing within that city, and their removal from the island, his honour considers it as highly dangerous to the community at large, that such persons should be allowed to remain in Jamaica, and therefore trusts that the house will grant the necessary supplies for defraying the expences of conveying such of them, as cannot afford to pay their passage, to New-Orleans; the commissioners of the board of accounts having pledged themselves to recommend the adoption adoption of that measure to the assembly, and the proprietor of two vessels in Kingston harbour being now ready to take them on board for that place at a moderate rate.

"The lieutenant-governor thinks it also proper to state to the house, that he knows of no other place in which persons of that description would be received, and that they could not possibly be placed in confinement in this island, the number of prisoners of war is already so great."

Ordered,
That the above message be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

Then the house adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

☞ By virtue of an order of the house, I do appoint Alexander Aikman and Son to print these Votes, and that no other person do presume to print the same.

Ordered,
That Mr. Shand, Mr. Grant, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Stewart (of Trelawny), and Mr. Finlayson, be a committee to wait on his honour with the above message, and the message agreed to yesterday; who returning, reported the delivery thereof, and that his honour was pleased to say, in answer to the above message, he would give directions accordingly.

That the said Samuel Barnaby had been exemplary in conduct, and merited his freedom; but which he could only obtain through the legislature:

That the said slave had friends who were willing to purchase and settle to similar uses, two new negroes, instead of him:

That, considering the age of the said slave, which was on the decline, the offer was very advantageous to the rector:

That the committee were of opinion, and therefore recommended, that leave be given to bring in a bill for emancipating the said Samuel Barnaby on the conditions offered, and security given such as is required by law on manumizing slaves:

And praying for relief.

Thomas March's petition.

A petition of Thomas March, superintendent of the Scot's Hall maroons, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That whereas the late house of assembly, by granting annually, for several years past, a small sum for assisting to make a new road along the Main Ridge, in the parish aforesaid, did thereby greatly encourage many persons to purchase lands, and commence settlements, in the track of the said road; and whereas the monies so granted have been faithfully and advantageously expended on the said road, together with considerable sums advanced by the new settlers on the said Main Ridge:

"That a considerable sum is still requisite, to extend it to the most distant settlements now forming, some of which are forty miles from the barquadier:

"That there still remain large tracts of rich and uncultivated lands, to which this new road leads, lying between the said Main Ridge and new ground barracks, and the district commonly called the Black Grounds, in the parish of Trelawny: That, if the said road is continued to extend, by the encouragement of the public and the exertion of industrious individuals, these lands will shortly be settled, to the great benefit of the island in general."

" That the road leading from the Old Maroon-Town towards Spring-Vale pen, is still in want of considerable repair:

" That the parish allotment on the said road has never been worked higher than to the intersection of the road leading to Schaw-Castle; that the amount of the said allotment has been reduced, and is not adequate to the purpose of keeping it in even passable repair, in consequence of which the petitioner has been a great sufferer in mules, particularly in the rainy season of the year."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Dorothy.

A petition of sundry freeholders and inhabitants of St. Dorothy was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the grant voted last session, for repairing the great road leading from the new coffee settlements in Clarendon and St. John down Woodhall hill to the foot of the Bullet-Tree hill near Colebecks, hath been faithfully expended, but is inadequate to put the said road in any tolerable repair."

And praying for relief.

Petition from Port-Royal.

A petition of the freeholders of the parish of Port-Royal was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That, from the very expensive labour attending the blasting of rocks on the road from the upper fording on Green-River to Robertsfield fording on Yallah's River, they have not been able to make the same passable: That this road will be of great utility to the upper part of Port-Royal and St. David's mountains."

And praying for relief.

Petition from Port-Royal and St David.

A petition of sundry freeholders and other inhabitants of Port-Royal and St. David was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the road leading from the bottom of Guava-Ridge to M'Courtie's fording, is a part of the road of general communication in the interior of the island, and is made use of by the several parishes of Port-Royal, St. Thomas in the East, and St. David:

" That the expence of repairing the said road would be too heavy for the petitioners; and that the said road is of general utility, and affords a speedy communication into the interior of the country."

And praying for relief.

Petition from Port-Royal.

A petition of the freeholders of Port-Royal was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the petitioners have faithfully worked out the grant of 100*l.* made last year on the main road, leading from the Nine-Mile-Stone on the windward road, through Dallas-Castle and Lucky-Valley plantations, to the interior of the parish of Port-Royal:

" That, from the extent of the said road, they have been able to repair only part part of it with such grant, and their allotments; and that, in many places alterations are required, which cannot be effected by the petitioners, without the further assistance of the house."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Mary.

A petition of sundry freeholders and other inhabitants of St. Mary was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioners have long laboured under very great distress, for the want of a good road from the borders of St. Thomas in the Vale, leading to Port-Maria-Bay, through Palmeto-Grove estate; the hill over which the former road went, from that estate to Tremolesworth estate, being such as to render it impossible to effect a good road by that track:

"That the petitioners have, with much labour, found out a new track, leading past Unity-Pond, from Palmeto-Grove to Hampstead, which is capable of being made an easy wain-road, the greatest rise in the whole distance being in no place more than one foot in sixteen feet, and which said track or jury road is now made a tolerable riding road, and the distance shortened:

"That the petitioners, in aid of the grant given by the house last session of assembly, have also, by subscription, expended a large sum thereon; and that the said road will be very beneficial to the public in general, as it leads to several of the bays in the said parish."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Andrew and St. George.

A petition of the magistrates, freeholders, and other inhabitants, of St. Andrew and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the sum of 320*l.* was granted by the house, last session, for improving and making a road from Fox's plantation, in St. Andrew, to Modyford's Gully at Dry-River, in St. George:

"That the said road, from its junction with the St. Andrew's line, goes through a great part of wood-land, at least ten miles, and is the shortest communication from the north to the south side, whereby many dangerous fords of Wag-Water river are avoided:

"That large allotments have been granted by the vestries of St. Andrew and St. George, and faithfully worked on the said road, together with the said grant, but have been insufficient to complete the same."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Thomas in the East.

A petition of the justices and vestry of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioners have lately caused a road to be laid out, under the directions of the road law, leading from the works of Spring plantation, in Blue-Mountain-Valley, to those of Sunning-Hill plantation, in Plantain-Garden-River:

"That the road keeps to the southward of that river, thereby avoiding all the fords of it (being thirty-two in number) till it comes to the one opposite to Potosi plantation, entering into the town of Bath:

"That the road will be attended with much public good, and convenience to travellers, by those fords being avoided, which, at the usual seasons of the year, are so torn up as to render them not only dangerous, but expensive to repair:

"That the petitioners have also caused another road to be laid out under the like authority, through Lysson's plantation, belonging to the honourable Simon

Taylor, esquire, to the town of Bath, which shortens the distance from Morant-Bay to that town five miles, and can be made an exceeding good carriage-road, the greatest part of it being already so:

"That the petitioners have also caused the road leading from Grampian plantation to the gap of the road leading to Portland to be turned, by which a steep hill is avoided, and which will render the said road much safer to travellers; diagrams of which several roads are hereunto annexed:

"That the petitioners are unable of themselves to carry into effect the said roads, without the aid and assistance of the house."

Ordered,

That the above fourteen petitions be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

Petition from St. Ann and St. Thomas in the Vale.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of St. Ann and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the present road over Mount-Diablo is bad, and incapable of being much improved, and travellers are induced to take other roads, to avoid the same; by reason of which the sum received as tollage, is not equal to keep the same in repair:

"That another track of a road has been discovered, to avoid the Mount-Diablo hill entirely, and has been regularly laid out by a jury, as by the diagram hereunto annexed will appear; and which new track is capable of being made into an easy and safe carriage-road, but that the expence will be more than can be defrayed by the turnpike in its present state:

"The petitioners therefore humbly pray that the law, now nearly expired, may be renewed, with such powers to increase the toll, or otherwise to raise money, for the purpose of carrying the said track into execution, if it shall appear to the house to be necessary."

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Henry, Mr. Whitehorne, and Mr. Grant; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

Petition of wharfingers, &c. of Clarendon, Vere, and St. Dorothy.

A petition of the wharfingers, and others concerned in the wharves, of the parishes of Clarendon, Vere, and St. Dorothy, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That, since the passing of the act to regulate wharfage and storage, in the year 1784, not only the rent demanded by the proprietors of the above wharves, but every contingency for supporting the same and conducting the business thereof, has increased at least in a threefold degree; and the rates established by the said act, have become totally inadequate to the expences and trouble of persons holding the said wharves:

"That the planters, merchants, and factors, concerned therewith, have been so well convinced of these facts, that the greatest part of them have acquiesced in and paid the increased rates allowed by particular laws to be demanded by wharfingers, at certain shipping places in this island, although the petitioners were not by law entitled thereto; but others of them, acting as executors, trustees, tees, or guardians, though inclined, do not feel themselves authorized to acquiesce in such increased rates, whereby difficulties and disputes sometimes arise, touching as well such increased rates as the construction of several clauses in the said recited act."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Pearson, Mr. Queneborough, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Falconer, and Mr. Israell; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of the parish of Trelawny was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from Trelawny.

"That the fort, erected for the defence of the town and harbour of Falmouth, now known by the name of Fort-Balcarres, is inadequate for that purpose, and ineligible from its situation:

"That, therefore, the removal of the said fort would be of great utility to the town of Falmouth:

"That Fort-Balcarres, being situate in the centre of the town, is, from the increase of buildings, rendered almost useless, by its confined situation, insomuch that the town of Falmouth is in danger of being set on fire, as has recently happened three different times, whenever the guns of the said fort are fired:

"That, in moderate weather, an enemy may bring to or anchor without the harbour, to windward of the channel leading into it, and batter the ships, without Fort-Balcarres being able to bring a single gun to bear on the enemy, as the shipping in the harbour would intercept the shot:

"That an enemy may lay to or anchor without the harbour, to leeward of the said channel, and cannonade both town and shipping, without being incommoded by the guns from Fort-Balcarres, as the buildings on Trelawny wharf, &c. would intercept the shot, and effectually screen the enemy:

"That these inconveniencies would be completely obviated by the removal of the said fort, and the erecting of it on the point of land (represented in the annexed diagram), belonging to the estate of the late Edward Barrett, esquire, deceased:

"That, for some time past, the parish of Trelawny has been, and, at the present period, is at considerable annual expence in hiring a floating powder-magazine, for the use of Fort-Balcarres, there not being any safe or proper situation to erect the same, within the limits of the said fort:

"That the land belonging to the heirs of Mr. Barrett, before referred to, not only, from its situation, commands the entrance to the harbour, and offers every possible protection to the town and shipping, but contains sufficient space for barracks, hospital, magazine, parade, &c. and is particularly distinguished as the most healthy situation in the town of Falmouth."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Stewart (of Trelawny), Mr. Smith, and Mr. Finlayson; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

A petition of the merchants, traders, and other inhabitants, of John's Town, and

and other trading places in the parish of St. Ann, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the petitioners, with much trouble, care, and expence, have established houses, stores, wharves, shops, and every necessary buildings, incident and necessary to and towards carrying on trade in its various branches and forms, and have imported large quantities of dry goods and other merchantable commodities, from Great-Britain and Ireland, and various places beyond the sea, at a great risk, and with the hopes of a fair profit in the sales thereof; all which houses, stores, wharves, and shops, are rated, and the petitioners taxed thereon, in the public tax-rolls of the said parish, as tax on house-rent, and tax on trade:

" That, in consequence of a tax on transient traders being laid and fixed by law in the greater part of the trading places on the north side of this island, whereby all persons who are not established in manner as before mentioned, and who arrive at the said trading places, are liable to be taxed on the amount of their invoices, at the rates and in the manner as is presented by the several laws of this island for such purposes made and passed, the said transient traders, to avoid paying the said tax, and knowing full well they are and will be, at John's Town aforesaid and other the trading places in the said parish of St. Ann, exempt and free from all such tax as is so laid in other trading places as aforesaid, resort to the several harbours and trading places in the said parish of St. Ann, where they sell and dispose of their cargoes and invoices at rates much below what the established and resident dealers and traders can do, unless to a certain loss and injury to themselves."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Henry, Mr. Whitehorne, and Mr. Grant; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

Petition from justices, &c. of St. Ann.

A petition of the justices and vestrymen of the parish of St. Ann, on behalf of themselves and other inhabitants of the said parish, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That, on the 16th day of April, 1793, Thomas Jenkins, esquire, then one of the commissioners appointed and empowered by an act of the legislature, passed in the year 1792, to cause the barracks in John's Town, in the said parish, to be repaired, and an hospital or other necessary buildings to be erected and built, for the accommodation of a detachment of regular troops then about to be stationed at the said barracks, did contract with William Bolt, esquire, the lawful attorney in this island of Joseph Price, esquire, to purchase a lot of land, situate in John's Town aforesaid, for the purpose of erecting an hospital for the reception and accommodation of such soldiers as might be sick or diseased, of the said detachment as aforesaid; and forthwith, with all expedition, employed carpenters to build an house on the said lot of land, for an hospital as aforesaid; but, after having so done, and finding that the fund appropriated by the said act was expended, without the said commissioners being able to pay for the said lot of land, according to contract, no title was granted by the said William Bolt, attorney to Joseph Price as aforesaid, to the said commissioners; and a short time afterwards, the said detachment having been removed from the said barracks, the house so built for an hospital as aforesaid became uninhabited, and then then afterwards was going fast into decay: Wherefore, afterwards, on the 25th day of March, 1795, the justices and vestrymen for the time being did purchase from the said Joseph Price the said lot of land, and did obtain a good and sufficient title for the same (as by the deed for the same, duly recorded and annexed hereto, will more fully appear), and did employ tradesmen to under-pin and support the said building with good and sufficient mason-work, and to do and make other necessary repairs thereto; and the justices and vestry for the time being, from time to time, afterwards, did employ tradesmen, at a great expence, to repair and finish the said buildings, as a court-house and place of public meeting for the use of the parishioners of the said parish; and did therefore pay, from time to time as aforesaid, unto the several tradesmen employed for the purposes aforesaid, large sums of money, as will appear by the schedule duly sworn to and hereunto annexed:

"That the said building was used and held as a court-house, and all parochial business was done and transacted therein, and continued to be so done and transacted, until some time in the month of December, 1798, when a detachment of the 83d regiment of foot having arrived there, the officer commanding the said detachment did forcibly take possession of the said house, and did use and appropriate the same as an hospital, for the accommodation of the sick and diseased soldiers of the said detachment, which the justices and vestry then for the time being permitted, seeing the exigency thereof; whereupon, afterwards, on the 28th day of March, 1799, the justices and vestry then for the time being did purchase, at a great expence, another house and buildings, as a court-house and for the transaction of all parochial business."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

Bill ordered.

A message from his honour the lieutenant-governor, by his secretary, as follows:

Message from his honour, respecting barrack department.

" Mr. Speaker,

" I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to lay before the assembly, conformably to the latter part of their message of yesterday, some specific propositions, which, if adopted, would tend, in a material degree, to do justice to the troops in the island barracks, and at the same time relieve his honour, and his successors in the military command in Jamaica, from very great embarrassments; which he confidently trusts that the house will not suffer to exist, without procuring thereby any advantage to the public.

" In these propositions, the lieutenant-governor hopes that the assembly will find nothing that can be construed into an interference with their privileges, the public of Jamaica being pledged to provide barracks for three thousand troops, and the management proposed by his honour having been actually exercised by all the governors and commanders in chief of Jamaica, previous to the administration of sir Adam Williamson; whereas the present system, so incompatible with the attainment of the objects in view, is of a very recent date.

" The lieutenant-governor commands me to add, that in the allusion which he made, in a former message, to the other establishments under the British government, he meant to include those in Great-Britain and Ireland, where the people are burthened more or less, in proportion as the expenditures for the barrack department are increased or diminished; and, as the constitution of this island is modelled upon that of the mother-country, his honour trusts that the house will, upon reflection, see no objection to comply with his earnest desire, by placing that branch of the military department upon nearly a similar footing in Jamaica.

" First, That the repairs which it may be necessary to make annually to the island barracks, be submitted by the lieutenant-governor to the house of assembly, at their usual meetings, together with estimates of the expence, his honour (or the officer next in command to him), with the island-engineer and barrackmaster-general, having previously inspected the barracks minutely for that purpose.

" Second, That whenever the service may require the erection of new barracks, his honour the lieutenant-governor do submit his opinions upon the subject to the house of assembly, without whose full concurrence they could not be undertaken; his honour meaning that his powers should be confined to the necessary annual repairs in the manner before mentioned."

Petition from justices, &c. of St. Ann reported.

Mr. Whitehorne, from the committee, to whom the petition of the justices and vestry of St. Ann was referred, reported, that they had inquired into the allegations contained in the said petition, and found they were true.

James Smith's petition.

A petition of James Smith, clerk to the commissioners appointed by law for raising several sums of money for the public service, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That, in pursuance of the law passed in the year 1796, and since renewed, the petitioner was employed by the said commissioners as their clerk, to keep the books of their proceedings, to make out the certificates and get them signed, to keep a regular account of them, &c.; which duty has been performed by the petitioner, and the house has been pleased to allow him a salary of 200*l. per annum*, for his trouble and contingencies in that respect:

" That the grant of the said salary has been constantly inserted in one of the money-bills, along with such salaries as are usually passed without petition, and was inserted last year in the poll-tax bill, in the same manner, but was struck out at the close of the last session, previous to the passing thereof; and the petitioner was, by that means, deprived of an opportunity of applying for it."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above message, report, and petition, with the petition mentioned in the said report, be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

Alex. M'Larty's petition.

A petition of Alexander M'Larty, M. D. physician to the Surrey gaol, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the petitioner was appointed physician to the gaol in the city of Kingston, the 16th January, 1801, by the lieutenant-governor and commander in chief of this island; and that, ever since the first appointment of a physician to the said gaol, the house has always allowed 100*l.* currency, for his annual and usual salary; also the amount of certain accounts of expences, which he is unavoidably at, in supplying with necessary medicines the many persons there sick in the said gaol:

" That, since his appointment, he hath continued constantly to attend, and prescribe prescribe for, the many sick prisoners in the said gaol, and to furnish and supply them with all manner of necessary medicines:

" That the petitioner hath annexed a list or document of the medicines, which have been by him furnished and supplied to the sick prisoners in the said gaol, from the 1st day of November, 1802, to the 31st day of October, 1803, with the costs and price of the said medicines, set opposite to each article, as they can be supplied in the city of Kingston, amounting to 128*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.* currency; which account the petitioner hath submitted to the inspection and judgment of respectable professional gentlemen of the faculty, in the city of Kingston, who have approved of the same, as by their certificate or attestation, at the foot of the said account, will appear."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. VII.

Ordered,

That the above petition, and the account thereto annexed, be referred to the committee, appointed for stating and settling the public accounts; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

Petition from St. John and St. Dorothy.

A petition of sundry freeholders and other inhabitants of St. John and St. Dorothy was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the great road, leading from the low lands into the parish of St. Dorothy, through the parish of St. John, to the interior of the island, to join the road in Luidas-Vale, leading to the Moncague, in St. Ann, on which grants are annually made by the house, might, at a moderate expence, be made fit for waggons, and carriages of every description, but for obstructions in certain places called the Hollow Rock and Spring-Garden hill, on which the grant of last year has been faithfully laid out, but is inadequate to the completion of the same:

" That the removing these obstructions would be a work of great public utility, but cannot be accomplished without the aid of the house."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

Petition from T. P. Howell and J. Sampson.

A petition of Thomas P. Howell and James Sampson, assignees of Thomas Goulburn, late collecting constable for the parish of Vere, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That, by a schedule hereunto annexed, marked with the letter A, which schedule the petitioners received from the clerk of the vestry of the said parish of Vere, it appears that reliefs from taxes in the said parish, uncollected by the said Thomas Goulburn, to the amount of 1133*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.* had been allowed and granted by the said vestry:

" That it appears by the schedule hereunto annexed, marked with the letter B, containing a true statement of certain debits and credits, extracted from the books of the receiver-general of this island, and to which the petitioners crave leave to refer, that the said Thomas Goulburn is charged with the sum of 671*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.*

9*s.* 4*d.* for the fourth quarter of the deficiency-roll of the year 1797; whilst it evidently appears by the same account, that the said sum ought, as the petitioners submit and doubt not to prove, to have been charged against Henry Goulburn or his sureties, the said Henry Goulburn, and not the said Thomas Goulburn, having been collector of the said tax in the year 1797; besides which, the petitioners submit, that, by the paper-writing hereunto annexed, marked with the letter C, and purporting to be a receipt from Thomas Holcombe, clerk to the then receiver-general (the original whereof, in the handwriting of the said Thomas Holcombe, is in the possession of the petitioners, ready to be produced), it manifestly appears, that the said Thomas Goulburn fully settled for and paid the whole of the deficiency-rolls for the year 1797:

" That the petitioners further submit it would appear, upon a comparison between the said schedule, marked with the letter B, and the said paper-writing or copy receipt, marked C, as if the said sum of 671*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* or fourth quarter's deficiency in 1797, had been twice paid by the said Thomas Goulburn:

" That the said Thomas Goulburn is charged, in the schedule hereunto annexed, marked with the letter D, with the sum of 442*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.* and in the schedule hereto annexed, marked with the letter E, with the sum of 741*l.* 11*s.* 4*d.* making together the sum of 1184*l.* 5*s.* 1*d.* being 10 per cent. on certain judgments obtained against the said Thomas Goulburn and his sureties; whereas, when such judgments were obtained, the law only authorized the magistrates and vestry of the several parishes in this island to charge arrearage-rolls with 10 per cent. by way of mulct, as the petitioners humbly submit: That there never was any arrearage-roll granted for the said parish until after the petitioners' appointment as assignees aforesaid, wherefore the said Thomas Goulburn had it not in his power to charge 10 per cent. on the money he from time to time collected:

" That the petitioners humbly submit, that the said Thomas Goulburn and his sureties, after being allowed the aforementioned sum of 1133*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.* or amount of reliefs, are only chargeable with 10 per cent. on the sum of 4172*l.* 4*s.* 9¾*d.* the remainder of the sum of 5305*l.* 8*s.* 11¾*d.* appearing by such arrearage-roll to have been outstanding and uncollected at the end of the year 1800, and not with the whole of the said sum of 1184*l.* 5*s.* 1*d.* being 10 per cent. on the aggregate amount of the judgments above mentioned:

" That, should the said sums of 671*l.* 9*s.* 4*d.* and the proportion of 10 per cent. which the petitioners have hereinbefore humbly submitted is not chargeable to the said Thomas Goulburn and his sureties, remain charged against the property and effects of the said Thomas Goulburn and his sureties, the petitioners submit it would prejudice the rights of their general creditors:

" That, since the management of the affairs of the said Thomas Goulburn hath been committed to the petitioners, and the tax-rolls, properly authenticated, placed in their hands (which, from the confusion in the said Thomas Goulburn's affairs, and obstacles in getting the said rolls from the vestry, was not until July last), the petitioners have used their utmost diligence and exertions to collect and get in the taxes outstanding, and have made and caused considerable payments to be made in and by various modes, on account of the money due by the said Thomas Goulburn and his sureties, as will appear by a schedule marked with the letter F, and annexed to this petition; and the petitioners are using, and will continue to use, every exertion they are capable of, to collect in all the funds due or payable to the said Thomas Goulburn, for the purpose purpose of defraying his just debts, amongst which those to the public have the priority:

"That, if indulgence were granted in payment of the writs at the suit of the king against the said Thomas Goulburn and his sureties, by issuing the same for priority only, and by authorizing the receiver-general to receive, out of court, such payments as the petitioners should be able to make thereon, instead of such payment being made through the provost-marshal's office, whereby a considerable sum in fees and commissions would be saved, the payment of the said writs would be greatly accelerated."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For schedules see appendix, No. VIII.

Ordered,

That the above petition be referred to Mr. Edwardes, Mr. Schaw (of Vere), Mr. Shand, Mr. Stewart (of Port-Royal), and Mr. Falconer; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house; that they have power to send for persons, papers, and records, and to examine all persons that shall come before them, in the most solemn manner.

Ordered,

to send for persons, papers, and records; and to examine all persons that shall come before them, in the most solemn manner.

A message

A message from his honour the lieutenant-governor, by his secretary, as follows: Message from his honour, respecting foreigners;

" Mr. Speaker,

" I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to lay before the house, the accounts for the subsistence, &c. of prisoners mentioned in a former message, the greater number of whom have been already conveyed out of the island; also to state to the house, that the proprietor of the vessels bound to New-Orleans, has offered to convey seven hundred foreign persons from Kingston to that place, at forty dollars for each white person and twenty dollars for each child and slave, including their maintenance.

" Upon a rough calculation the lieutenant-governor conceives that twenty thousand dollars would be required to carry the latter service into effect, and his honour recommends it to the house, in the first instance, to select for embarkation such white persons as possess slaves, as those white persons who have none may be removed, without difficulty, to any other situation, at a future period: There are, however, twenty-four males and sixteen females, persons of colour and blacks, natives of Curraçoa and St. Thomas's, whom it would, in his honour's opinion, be extremely desirable also to transport, by this opportunity, to New-Orleans. The several classes herein mentioned can be pointed out by the committee of common council of Kingston, and the lieutenant-governor will cause them to be apprehended, as soon as the vessels have been engaged for their transportation."

Ordered,

Then the house resolved itself into such committee:

to

to pay the expence of the conveyance of persons having sufficient property for paying their own passage:

Then Mr. Mitchell acquainted the house, that the committee had directed him to move the house for leave to sit again:

Resolved,

That this house will, on Tuesday next, again resolve itself into a committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

A petition of the inhabitants of the parish of Westmorland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from Westmorland.

" That the grants that have been given by the house, on the great road of communication leading from this parish, through Bull-Head by the Dolphin-Head, to the parish of Hanover, have not been sufficient to complete the same, or to make it as yet safe for passengers to travel, owing to the extent of mountainous, woody, and rocky land, through which the said road is carried:

" That the said road, through Bull-Head to the said parish of Hanover, is capable of being made a safe, easy, short, and commodious road for the public, and of great advantage to the island in general, and would be the means of inducing many persons to settle in the interior part of the said two parishes:

" That the grant given by the house, in the last session, on the said road, hath been fully worked out."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Westmorland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the great internal road of communication, from the intersection of the barrack road, through Darliston and Lenox plantations, to the line of St. Elizabeth, is in a very bad state of repair:

the said parish, which sum hath been faithfully worked out on the said road, and a due return made thereof:

" That the heavy rains have washed away and gullied out many places in the road, so as to render it impassable for carriages, the greater part being a new made road, and requiring time and amendment to fix the materials and to make it firm and permanent, and it being the only road that the several settlers in these mountains have to travel on, to church, market, and shipment of their produce."

And praying for relief.

" That the road, leading from the Annotto-Bay road to intersect and form a junction with the Dry-River road, has been open since last year for the public, but requires to be made wider, before it can be travelled with that degree of safety that is necessary:

" That, since opening this road, his honour the lieutenant-governor has made choice of a piece of land, belonging to Fort-George pen, to erect barracks thereon, for the reception of his majesty's troops, through which this road passes:

" That, by means of this road, when completed, troops may be marched from the military station of Stoney-Hill to Annotto-Bay, in St. George, without any impediment in their route by rivers:

" That, from the great importance of this road, not only to the petitioners, but to the general security of the island, the petitioners hope for the further assistance of the house."

And praying for relief.

That the above seven petitions be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

" That the petitioners, understanding that a bill will be brought in, the present session of assembly, to alter and amend the act above mentioned, so far as it relates to Kingston and Morant-Bay, pray that such relief may extend to the public wharfingers of Hanover."

A petition of the wharfingers, and others concerned in wharves, in the parish of Trelawny was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioners have been at considerable expence, in erecting stores for the better accommodation and security of the public property; and that each of the wharves of the petitioners are provided with necessary warehouses and stores, equal to any in this island, in proportion to the business transacted in them:

"That the articles of living, clerks' salaries, negro-hire, and various other contingent expences, are much greater, and some of them exceeding 100 per cent. in price, more than they were at the time when the present rates of wharfage were established:

"That the petitioners will be considerable sufferers, without an addition is made to the present rates, adequate to the increased burthen and expence under which the petitioners labour, from these unforeseen and unavoidable circumstances, and the renewal of the war."

And praying for relief.

other

other annuity of 370*l.* current money of this island, free from all deductions, which said sums of 450*l.* sterling and 370*l.* currency made together an annuity of 1000*l.* currency, and was thereby made payable to the said Susanna Charlotte Ellis, or her assigns, during her life, by equal quarterly payments, as therein mentioned, and with such powers of distress, entry, and perception of the rents and profits as therein mentioned and subject thereto, and to a term of ninety-nine years, thereby limited, for the better securing the payment thereof to the use of the said John Ellis, his heirs and assigns, until the petitioner George Ellis should attain the age of twenty-one years, and, from and after the petitioner should have attained such age, to the use of the said John Ellis, his heirs and assigns, until the petitioner should execute unto the said John Ellis, his heirs and assigns, such deed of release as therein mentioned, and, from and after the said petitioner should have executed such release, then to the use of the said petitioner for life, with remainder to the said John Palmer and Charles Long, and their heirs, in trust, to preserve the contingent remainders, with remainder to the use of the first and other sons of the said petitioner in tail-male, with remainder to the use of the said John Ellis, his heirs and assigns, for ever: And it was thereby provided and agreed, that it should be lawful for the said petitioner, at any time after he had attained his age of twenty-one years, and executed such release to the said John Ellis by any deed, under his hand and seal, attested by two or more credible witnesses, to charge the said messuages, plantations, pen, mountain polink, slaves, and premises, with any annuity, not exceeding 500*l.* currency per annum, to be paid to any woman he should marry for jointure:

"That the petitioner, George Ellis, hath long since attained his age of twenty-one years, and having executed the said release to the said John Ellis, as in the said indenture of settlement stipulated, he is now seized of the said messuages, plantations, lands, slaves, and premises, for his natural life, subject to the said annuity of 1000*l.* to the said Susanna Charlotte Ellis, now the widow of sir David Lindsay, baronet, deceased:

"That the said John Ellis hath since conveyed unto the said petitioner the remainder or reversion in fee, by the said indenture so limited to him and his heirs, on failure of issue male of the said petitioner, to hold unto and to the use of the said petitioner, his heirs and assigns, for ever:

"That, by an indenture, dated the 5th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1801, and made between the petitioner George Ellis, of the first part; sir Peter Parker, baronet, of the second part; Ann Ellis the wife of the petitioner, then Ann Parker, spinster, daughter of the said sir Peter Parker, of the third part; Richard earl of Effingham, John Ellis, Charles Rose Ellis, and George Parker, esquires, of the fourth part, reciting inter alia that a marriage was intended between the said petitioner George Ellis and Ann his wife, then Ann Parker, spinster, it was witnessed, and for the considerations therein mentioned, and in exercise of the power in and by the said indenture reserved and given to the said petitioner George Ellis, he did burthen and charge the said messuages, plantations, lands, slaves, and premises, with the payment, unto Ann Ellis, the wife of the petitioner, then Ann Parker (in case she should survive the petitioner George Ellis), of an annuity of 500*l.* current money of this island, free from all deductions whatsoever, for her natural life, to be paid unto her, or her assigns, on the Royal Exchange of the city of London, by four quarterly payments, with powers of entry and distress as therein mentioned; and the petitioner

titioner George Ellis did thereby demise unto the said Richard earl of Effingham, John Ellis, Charles Rose Ellis, and George Parker, their executors, administrators, and assigns, the said messuages, plantations, lands, slaves, and premises, for the term of ninety-nine years, to commence from the death of the petitioner George Ellis, upon trust and for the better securing the payment of the said annuity of 500*l.* unto the said Ann Ellis, the wife of the petitioner, then Ann Parker:

"That the marriage between the petitioner and the said Ann Parker was soon after had and solemnized, and the said dame Susanna Charlotte Lindsay is still living:

"That the said mountain polink, called Cedar-Valley, hath been for many years, and now is so very unproductive, that the labour of the slaves employed thereon is wholly lost to the petitioner:

"That it would be very advantageous to the petitioner and the heirs male of his body, and also to all other persons interested in the said plantation and pen, to have the said mountain polink, called Cedar-Valley, except so much thereof as is necessary for supplying the said plantation and pen with provisions and timber, sold and disposed of, and the money arising from such sale, laid out in the purchase of other lands, to be settled to the same uses as are now subsisting of and upon the said plantation and pen, under and by virtue of the said indentures, of the 8th day of May, 1755, and the 8th day of November, 1801; but, by reason of the limitations contained in the said indenture of the 8th day of May, 1755, such sale cannot be made without the aid and assistance of the house."

Message from his honour, respecting barrack lands.

A message from his honour the lieutenant-governor, by his secretary, as follows:

"MR. SPEAKER,

"I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to state to the house, that the act of the forty-second year of his present majesty, empowering his honour to purchase lands whereon to erect barracks for the troops, having been found inadequate to effectuate the purposes of the legislature, in cases where the owners of land do not agree to dispose thereof, his honour requests that the house will take the said act into their immediate consideration, and make such amendments and alterations therein as to them shall seem meet, in order order to carry into effect, at as early a period as possible, the objects thereby contemplated."

A petition of William Fenwick, watchmaker, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, William Fenwick's petition.

And praying for relief.

A petition of Thomas Williams, mason, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Thomas William's petition.

"That the petitioner contracted, in the year 1795, to build the south-east wing of lord Rodney's Temple, for the sum of 5000*l.*:

"That, soon after entering into the contract, martial law was proclaimed, in consequence of the maroon rebellion, and lasted for many months, when the military duty the petitioner and his assistants were obliged to perform arrested the progress of the work, which was still further retarded by the severe drought which prevailed in 1796 and 1797, when no cattle could be procured to convey the materials necessary for the building; which circumstance, added to two severe and lasting fits of sickness with which the petitioner was afflicted, put it altogether out of his power to finish his contract in the limited time:

"That, in consequence of the great delay occasioned by these unforeseen, and, for the petitioner, very unfortunate circumstances, he was obliged to purchase all the materials for the building at a very advanced price, many of the articles having risen to double what they were at the time of the contract, in consequence of which he has been a very great loser by the same:

"That, in addition to his other misfortunes, the members of the honourable board of works came to the resolution of putting the petitioner's bond and that of his securities in suit, for not performing his contract in due time:

"That the action thus brought by the honourable board was kept depending for nearly three years, to the great injury of the petitioner's credit, and the heavy loss of his time and money, created by the attendance of himself and witnesses, court after court, until the cause was at last brought on:

"That, when the trial came on, every circumstance above stated was proved to the satisfaction of the court and jury, who found a verdict for only $7\frac{1}{2}d.$ damages against the petitioner and his securities:

"That, when the honourable board of works commenced the above action against the petitioner, they withheld from him 500*l.* being a balance due of the amount of his contract, until the action was decided upon in the court; and that the said sum of 500*l.* still remains unpaid to the petitioner, which he humbly conceives he is entitled to receive, together with interest thereon."

And praying for relief.

A petition of Henry Burgess, planter, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Henry Burgess's petition.

And praying for relief.

A petition

"That the house was pleased to consider his former services against rebellious slaves, Three-Finger-Jack, and others, by granting the petitioner the sum of 12*l. per annum*, which sum he finds will not allow him food and common clothing during the year."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. IX.

Stevens Wood's petition.

A petition of Stevens Wood, deputy-marshal, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That, upon the appointment of the petitioner as deputy-marshal for the said parish of St. Catherine, the petitioner found it absolutely necessary, for the security of the several prisoners confined in the said gaol, and in the charge of the petitioner, to purchase seven strong double-bolted padlocks, and to employ blacksmiths to repair the several bolts, locks, bars, and doors, belonging to the said gaol, they being out of repair and almost useless, and unfit for the safe custody of the several persons so entrusted to his care, and to purchase one dozen hoes, for the purpose of cleaning out the yard of the said gaol, the same being full of bushes and in a ruinate state, in doing which the petitioner expended the sum of 30*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.* as will appear by four several receipts to which the petitioner prays leave to refer:

"That the petitioner did, during the last session of the house, apply for the payment of an account in which the above charges were included, but which charges were rejected, and the petitioner was desired to apply to the honourable board of works:

"That the petitioner accordingly made such application to the said board, who refused to pay the same:

"That the petitioner expended the said sum of 30*l.* 0*s.* 10*d.* for the benefit of the public, and has no other remedy but by an application to the house."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. XIII.

Ordered,

That the above five petitions, and the accounts thereto annexed, be referred to the committee, appointed for stating and settling the public accounts; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. George.

"That the road leading from Stoney-Hill, in the parish of St. Andrew, to Annotto-Bay, in the parish of St. George, is an internal road of communication of great importance, as well by being the most direct route from the military post at Stoney-Hill to Annotto-Bay on the north side of the island, as by passing through a great extent of country, fit for the cultivation of coffee and other valuable staples:

"That the communication is frequently interrupted, and the present road rendered impassable, by heavy floods in Wag-Water river, which it is necessary to cross nearly thirty times by several very dangerous fordings, whereby many valuable lives have been lost:

"That the track of a road has been discovered and laid out, which, if established as the king's highway, would open a safe and easy communication from the south to the north side of the island, avoiding many steep hills, and crossing the said river only once:

"That a diagram, whereon the said track is delineated, was laid before the house in the year 1798, and grants have been made annually, since that time, for carrying on a road, agreeably to the said track:

"That the money so granted has been faithfully expended, and very considerable progress has been made in opening the most difficult part of the said road:

"That the distance from George's River, the boundary of the parish, to Annotto-Bay, is nearly ten miles, and the petitioners are unable to complete such a length of road, without the further aid of the house."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of Blue-Mountain-Valley, in St. Thomas in the East, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. Thomas in the East.

" That, whereas the carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be judged a security to the island, and an encouragement to settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea, has always been deemed an object of great importance:

" The petitioners therefore beg leave to state, that the money granted by the house last session (50*l.*) for carrying on the road from the Barrack plantation, through Island-Head estate, leading to Old Nanny-Town, has been faithfully expended to the best advantage, but has been found very inadequate for so arduous an undertaking; and that the same cannot be completed, without a much more considerable assistance from the house."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Mary.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the house was pleased, the last session, to grant the sum of 50*l.* towards repairing and improving a road leading from Orange-River, in the parish of St. Mary, through doctor Page's settlement, to the line of St. Thomas in the Vale:

" That the said grant has been faithfully expended on the said road, but is found inadequate to complete the same."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That sundry grants have already been given and faithfully worked on the road from Pear-Tree Grove, in St. Thomas in the Vale, through Mortar-Hall, in St. Mary, the utility of which is apparent to every traveller:

" That, from the soil being of a very deep nature, and a great part through high wood, paving is actually necessary, a great deal of which has been completed, but much remains still to do, besides widening the road:

" That the allotment allowed by the parish is not adequate thereto."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Mary and St. George.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the sums granted by the house, towards making a new road from M'Bean's coffee-walk, through Louisburg estate, to the intersection of the Spanish-Town road leading to Richmond, in St. Mary, have been hitherto inadequate to complete the same:

" That this road, when completed, will avoid many steep hills and shorten the distance considerably, and be of great public utility, being the only road for carriages across that part of the island."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the house, in their last session, granted the sum of 100*l.* for altering and repairing the road known by the name of the Job's Hill road, leading from Montrose pen, in St. Mary, by Tom's River, to Belmont, in St. Andrew:

" That this sum has been faithfully and judiciously expended, but found inadequate to complete the same:

" That the great public utility of this road has been very generally known for many years."

And praying for relief.

A petition

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. Mary and St. George.

"That a new track of a road has been laid out by a jury, through Gray's Inn and Gibraltar estates, in the parish of St. George, to avoid crossing Wag-Water, Annotto, and Pen-Car rivers, at the sea side, which, of late years, had become very dangerous to travellers in general, rendering it impracticable, at many seasons of the year, to convey produce by the old road to the barquadier, without great risk of damage thereto, arising from the new course Wag-Water has taken across the same:

"That the track now laid out will require a bridge over Pen-Car river, which will enable the petitioners to carry their produce in great safety, at all seasons of the year, to Annotto-Bay, and will open a safe and thorough communication from Portland and St. George, to the St. Mary's main road leading to Spanish-Town, as well as form a junction with the road leading towards the intended barracks at Fort-George pen and the old barracks at Fort-Brunswick."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

"That the house were pleased, in their last session, to grant the sum of 100*l.* towards improving the road leading from Aleppo, in St. Mary, to the intersection of the road to Spanish-Town and Kingston, at Richmond, in St. Mary:

"That this sum has been fully expended, but has been very inadequate to complete the same."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

"That the sum granted by the house, in their last session, for repairing the road leading from the ridge at the line of St. Thomas in the Vale to Richmond estate, in St. Mary, has been faithfully expended:

"That, notwithstanding the judicious expenditure thereof, together with considerable assistance from the parish allotments, the said road is still susceptible of further improvement."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. George was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

A petition

A petition of James Rose, esquire, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, James Rose's petition.

" That, about the latter end of the month of March or the beginning of April, 1800, thirty-two prisoners of war were landed near Montego-Bay, people of the worst description and a turbulent set of banditti, the safe custody of whom was absolutely necessary to the peace of the country:

" That they were escorted from Montego-Bay to Falmouth, and from thence to St. Ann's Bay, by a party of the Trelawny regiment of horse, consisting of two commissioned and two non-commissioned officers, and eighteen privates, who were joined by one non-commissioned officer of the light dragoons, by the orders of colonel Robert Bell, and the officer commanding the escort was directed to deliver them safe to the officer commanding in St. Ann, to be by him forwarded, under the like escort, to head-quarters:

" That the prisoners being escorted to St. Ann, in which parish there was no proper place of confinement for them, no guard under whose care they could be placed, no prison made for them by the magistrates, nor any to be obtained, until the late Lewis Cuthbert, esquire, who was present, engaged that the tavern-keeper should be paid for whatever he might furnish the prisoners with, the petitioner deemed it incumbent on him, as senior officer of the precinct, to order (as he had done for several years before on similar occasions) a proper escort of cavalry to guard the prisoners to the foot of Mount-Diablo, there to be received by an equal escort of cavalry of St. Thomas in the Vale:

" That the escort, under the command of cornet Scarlett, not being relieved at Mount-Diablo, proceeded with the prisoners, and, on the 13th day of April, arrived at Bog-Walk tavern, where they halted:

" That George M'Mellien, one of the troopers, being placed as a centinel over the arms of the party, deserted, and never after returned to the detachment:

" That the detachment proceeded with the prisoners, and delivered them at head-quarters, and returned to St. Ann, when cornet Scarlett lodged a complaint against the said George M'Mellien, for quitting his post and other misconduct:

" That a court-martial being ordered for the trial of the said George M'Mellien, he was accordingly tried, and, being found guilty, was sentenced to pay a fine of 140*l.* to be imprisoned thirty days in the county-gaol, and until he should pay the fine:

" That the petitioner sat as president of the said court-martial, and signed the warrant for carrying the sentence of the said court-martial into execution, and the said George M'Mellien was thereupon delivered to the deputy-marshal for the parish of St. Ann:

" That the said George M'Mellien afterwards obtained a writ of habeas corpus, and being brought before Mr. Justice Dawson he was discharged:

" That the petitioner verily believes the said George M'Mellien never was in actual confinement, having been frequently seen at large during the time he was, by the sentence, to have been confined, and the fine has never been paid:

" That the said George M'Mellien brought an action for false imprisonment against the petitioner, as of October grand court, 1800, and continued the said action untried until February grand court, 1803, when the same was ordered by the said grand court to be discontinued:

" That the petitioner was put to very great expence, and to much trouble and inconvenience, in getting his witnesses subpœnaed for February, June, and

October grand courts, 1801, and February, June, and October grand courts, 1802, and in procuring their attendance in Spanish-Town during those courts, independent of the fees to his counsel and the bill of costs to his attornies:

"That, during the said seven courts that the said action was depending, the said George M'Mellien made but one attempt to try the said cause, and that at a time when the petitioner's witnesses had quitted the court, expecting that the day would have been taken up with crown business, the same having been fixed the day previous for that purpose, but which did not come on, the crown witnesses not attending:

"That the said action being discontinued as before mentioned, the said George M'Mellien hath brought another action against the petitioner for the same cause, to the petitioner's great trouble, inconvenience, and expence, and which is still depending."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above returns and petition do lie on the table, for the perusal of the members.

Then the house adjourned till to-morrow morning, nine of the clock.

☞ By virtue of an order of the house, I do appoint Alexander Aikman and Son to print these Votes, and that no other person do presume to print the same.

PHILIP REDWOOD, Speaker.

Mercurii, 23° die Novembris, 1803.

General wharfage bill read second time.

THE bill for the general regulation of wharfage and storage was read a second time:

Resolved,

That the said bill be committed to a committee of the whole house, to-morrow.

George Thomson's petition reported.

Mr. Christie, from the committee, to whom the petition of George Thomson was referred, reported, that they had examined the models of the pulping machine, with the platform attached thereto for drying and preserving the coffee from being wet or stolen, and were of opinion that a committee should be appointed, to prepare and bring in a bill for granting him a patent for seven years, for his useful discovery of the said pulping-mill and platform:

Resolved,

That the house do agree to the report:

Ordered,

Bill ordered.

That Mr. Christie, Mr. Broughton, Mr. Shaw (of Kingston), and Mr. Stewart (of Port-Royal), be a committee for that purpose.

James Lomax's petition.

A petition of James Lomax, surveyor of public works, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That

" That the petitioner was appointed by his excellency the commander in chief, on the 1st of October, 1802, to the above-mentioned situation, and has ever since exerted himself to the utmost in executing the several duties thereof:

" That, in consequence of the materials being now found by the public, the duties of the situation have been considerably increased, it being necessary for him to certify the quantities expended:

" That he can make it appear, that during the time he has held the situation, there have been more new buildings constructed, and under contract, than for any five years previous, and trusts that the works, kept at the public expence, will be found in a better state than they have been for many years, in the execution of which he has paid particular attention to the reports and instructions of the committees of the house, and of the board of works:

" That the house, last session, were pleased to reduce the salary of the above-mentioned office very considerably:

" He therefore humbly submits, that in consequence of the duties of the situation having increased, a greater number of plans and statements being now required than formerly, as well as trouble in calculating the different quantities of materials, necessary for completing the works contracted for, exclusive of his attendance during the performance of the work, and finally inspecting the same, previous to his attesting the accounts, he is entitled to the salary heretofore granted his predecessors."

And praying for relief.

A petition of John Griffith, collecting constable of St. Elizabeth, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, John Griffith's petition.

" That the petitioner is collecting constable for the parish of St. Elizabeth, a district so very extensive, that it is impossible to execute the duties thereof, without the appointment and assistance of a deputy or deputies:

" That the petitioner and Matthew Smith, esquire, the former collecting constable, having therefore appointed William Morgan, of St. Elizabeth, gentleman, to collect the taxes for the said parish, and to levy for the same as their deputy; and the said William Morgan having made a levy upon certain property of Charles Pight, of the said parish, gentleman, as such deputy, an action of trespass was brought against the said William Morgan for so doing:

" That, though the said action of trespass was never proceeded in to judgment on the part of the said Charles Pight, yet the said William Morgan, having been obliged to attend, with his witnesses, on account thereof, two courts of assize at Savanna-la-Mar, in the parish of Westmorland, incurred considerable expences, which the petitioner is bound to reimburse and pay him; a statement of which expences is hereunto annexed."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. XIV.

A petition of John Brailsford was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, John Brailsford's petition.

" That the contract for supplying the different forts with water and boats having expired in November, 1802, and in consequence of the peace being concluded, and in the firm hope of its continuance, the petitioner was induced to take the new contract at half the former terms:

" That, from the commencement of the new contract, instead of any abatement in the price of labour, provisions, or any article of naval stores, such as cordage, pitch, tar, &c. they have continued very high, and are still daily increasing:

" That

" That he has completed, at a very heavy expence, his plan of throwing water into Fort-Augusta, by pumps and a great length of guttering, for the accommodation of the troops, which has given general satisfaction, without putting the public to the least expence."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above three petitions be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

John Stone's petition.

A petition of John Stone, deputy-marshal, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That there is due and owing unto the petitioner the sum of 1947*l.* 0*s.* 5*d.* for cash advanced by him, for the support and maintenance of prisoners confined in Kingston gaol, and for sundry other charges, as will more fully appear by the annexed accounts."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For accounts see appendix, No. XV.

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. XVII.

Ordered,

That the above three petitions, and the accounts thereto annexed, be referred to the committee, appointed for stating and settling the public accounts; that they inquire into the allegations therein set forth, and report the facts, with their opinion thereon, to the house.

Petition from Clarendon.

A petition of sundry freeholders of Clarendon was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the house, in the last session, granted the sum of 60*l.* in aid of making a new road, agreeably to a diagram annexed to a petition of sundry freeholders and other inhabitants of the parish aforesaid, from the junction of the two great roads from Clarendon mountains, near Mammee-Gully, through Lancewood-Valley and Inverness pens, to Gregory's cock-pits:

" That the commissioners, appointed by the house for appropriating the same, have diligently attended to the expenditure thereof, and have further expended a considerable sum advanced by the parish, and also a considerable sum advanced by an individual:

" That

" That the said road is now made passable for carriages, but still requires a considerable sum to widen and complete it."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Ann, St. Mary, and St. Thomas in the Vale.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Ann, St. Mary, and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That a new road of communication hath been laid out, intersecting the main road on the top of Guy's Hill, in St. Thomas in the Vale, and leading from thence to the intersection of two roads, one leading to Ardoch pen to the main road at the Moneague, the other leading to the main road near Rio-Ho estate, in St. Ann:

" That the said road is at present dangerous for travellers, and passes through a great deal of uncultivated land, and would, when completed, be of great utility and benefit to that part of the country, and as a road of communication from the upper part of St. Mary and St. George; but that it cannot be made beneficial to the public without the aid of the house."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Andrew and St. Mary.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Andrew and St. Mary was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the road, leading from Stoney-Hill, in the parish of St. Andrew, to Annotto-Bay, in the parish of St. George, is an internal road of communication of great importance, as well by being the most direct route from the military post at Stoney-Hill to Annotto-Bay on the north side of the island, as by passing through a great extent of country fit for the cultivation of coffee and other valuable staples:

" That the communication is frequently interrupted, and the present road rendered impassable, by heavy floods in Wag-Water river, which it is necessary to cross nearly thirty times, by several very dangerous fordings, whereby many valuable lives have been lost:

" That the track of a road has been discovered and laid out, which, if established as the king's highway, would open a safe and easy communication from the south to the north side of the island, avoiding many steep hills, and crossing the said river only once:

" That a diagram, whereon the said track is delineated, was laid before the house in the year 1798, and grants have been made annually since that time, for carrying on a road agreeably to the said track:

" That the money granted has been faithfully expended, and considerable progress made in opening the said track, as well within as beyond the boundary-line of the parish of St. Andrew:

" That the distance from George's River in the said line to Stoney-Hill barracks is about fifteen miles, and the parochial allotments are insufficient for completing and keeping in repair the said road, without a further aid from the house."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. George, St Andrew, and Portland.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. George, St. Andrew, and Portland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the house were pleased to grant the sum of 200*l.* in the last session, towards carrying on the road from the last fording of Buff-Bay river, in the said parish of St. George, to the dividing-line in the parish of St. Andrew, which, together with other sums, hath been faithfully employed, and a considerable progress hath been made in improving and amending the said road, which is of great public utility and consequence; but that a much larger sum will be requisite to complete the said road, and procure for the public the benefit of the monies hitherto expended on it."

And praying for relief.

Petition from Portland. A petition of sundry freeholders of Portland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That several grants of money have been given by the house, to make a road from that part of the Cunha-Cunha road, leading from Bath to Port-Antonio, at Seaman's Valley, to join the said road at Sandy-River, to avoid several very dangerous fordings of the Rio-Grande, which grants have been all faithfully expended:

"That the said road is not yet completed, and that large tracts of good land remain uncultivated for the want of a road, through which land this road is intended to go."

And praying for relief.

Ditto. A petition of sundry freeholders of Portland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That several grants of money have been given by the house, to alter and amend the Cunha-Cunha road, leading from Bath to Port-Antonio, which grants have been all faithfully expended, and that the said road still requires great assistance:

"That the Cunha-Cunha road, when completed, will only cross the Rio-Grande once, and that nearly at the source, which fording is most generally to be crossed when the rivers round the east end and to leeward are impassable, and that in consequence this is a road of great public utility."

And praying for relief.

Ditto. A petition of sundry freeholders of Portland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the road to avoid Breakheart-Hill still continues very bad, and difficult to convey produce over (although the money granted by the house the last session, as well as all former grants, have been faithfully expended), which is a great impediment in the way of those already settled in the interior of the said hill, and deters many others from settling there:

"That the alteration of Breakheart-Hill will render the road of communication from Bath to Port-Antonio much more easy and safe."

And praying for relief.

Ditto. A petition of sundry freeholders of Portland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioners have begun a road from the Grange estate lying two miles west of, and running parallel with, the king's road, with a view of forming a junction with the road leading from Turtle-Crawl, through Cambridge and the Grove plantations; and that the said road will be of much service to the new settlers in the vicinity, by enabling them to profit by the convenience of the above-mentioned road through Cambridge and the Grove:

"That they have already completed nearly two miles of the said road, but require a further grant from the house to enable them to finish the same."

And praying for relief.

Ditto. A petition of sundry freeholders of Portland was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioners have found the grant of 150*l.* from the house, during the

the last session, insufficient for the completion of the road, leading from Turtle-Crawl, through Cambridge, to the junction of the road leading from Egg-Hill to Priestman's River."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. David was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. David.

"That the road leading from River-Head estate to Hagley-Gap, where it intersects the road from Old Monkland to the parish of Port-Royal, and from thence to the interior of St. David, is at all times dangerous, and often impassable:

"That this being the only road of communication between the mountains and the lower part of the parish, the inhabitants of the back settlements are subject to much inconvenience and risk, in going to, and returning from, parochial and military meetings:

"That, from the great length of roads, which the petitioners are obliged to repair and keep in order, they are unable, without aid, to attempt any improvement on the said road."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. David was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

"That, from the very heavy expence that has hitherto attended the completing the road leading from Yallah's River to Blue-Mountain-Valley, in the parish of St. Thomas in the East, all the grants have been worked out and found insufficient, which arises from the great expence in blowing through a body of rocks:

"That if this were once properly effected, it would render the road perfectly safe and durable, which is very far from being the case in its present unfinished state:

"That it is altogether impracticable to turn the road, and, unless the house will grant them such further relief as may seem proper, they will be under the necessity of conveying their produce to Kingston by another road, which is very mountainous, and at a distance of several miles more than the road in question:

"That, had not many of the petitioners voluntarily contributed individually, by the labour of their slaves, to the support of this road, it would not have been passable at this moment, either for the public, or for themselves to carry their produce to market."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. David and Port-Royal was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. David and Port-Royal.

"That, notwithstanding the money, granted the last session for the making a new road from Stanley-Gap, in the parish of St. David, to the fording on Green-River, to form a junction with the new road from thence to Robertsfield fording on Yallah's River, hath been worked out with the greatest judgment and care, yet from the distance, and difficulties met with in opening the same, they are under the necessity of applying to the house for further aid to complete the same:

"That this road, when finished, will be of the greatest advantage to the petitioners and their neighbours, and, if continued to Port-Antonio, will, they conceive, be the shortest road between the towns."

And praying for relief.

A petition

Petition from St. Thomas in the East and St. David.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East and St. David was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That a more direct road of communication from the upper part of Blue-Mountain-Valley, to join the high road leading from the ford of Yallah's River at Mount-Sinai estate, to Kingston, is much wanted, the present one being long, and inconvenient to settlers and other persons going from that part of the valley to Kingston:

"That the annexed diagram represents the track of such a road as is wanted, and that its utility is evident, inasmuch as the distance would be only eight miles, instead of twelve:

"That the track is laid out at the elevation of one foot in ten, on one side of the hill, and at the same depression on the other; and that it goes through very fine and easy land, where there are already several settlements:

"That the said road would be useful not only to persons settled in the valley and some part of the St. David's mountains, but also to those travelling from Kingston to Port-Antonio by the Cunha-Cunha road:

"That, besides the advantages above set forth, it would be productive of another, namely, the encouraging people to settle on the uncultivated land in that part of St. David."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Thomas in the East.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That a road from Island-Head plantation to Union-Place plantation, in the parish aforesaid, has been tracked, and is as laid down by the diagram hereunto annexed:

"That Union-Place is a settlement just forming, and is far in the interior of that part of the country called the Blue-Mountains:

"That such road would not only be of great utility to the present settlers, but would be a great encouragement for other people to settle themselves in the said part of the country:

"That the proprietors of Union-Place find that the making of such road will be attended with more expence than they can at present afford."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the petitioners have been at considerable expence in laying out, and partly making, a road leading from the Portland and Bath road, through the settlement of Charles Fowles and John Kelly, into a tract of very valuable uncultivated land, well adapted for coffee and other staple commodities of this island:

"That the bringing the said land into cultivation would be highly beneficial to the country, but cannot be accomplished until the said road is completed:

"That a diagram, whereon the track of the said road is delineated, was last year laid before the house, who were pleased to grant the sum of 31*l.* 5*s.*:

"That the money has been faithfully and carefully laid out, but from the length of the track, was altogether inadequate to the purpose of finishing it."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That

" That the petitioners, under many difficulties and heavy expences, made settlements in the interior parts of the said parish, upon Island-River and its vicinity:

" That the sum of money, which the house were pleased to grant at their last session, has been faithfully expended, and the road judiciously laid out, from the great Bath road leading to Port-Morant, through Strathmore, Grampian, and Mount-Donald plantations:

" That from Mount-Donald plantation a road may be carried, in an easy direction, towards the river Grande, and from thence to Cornwall plantation in the parish of Portland, occupying in its way an extensive tract of valuable woodland, hitherto unexplored, and fit for all the purposes of useful cultivation:

" That a considerable sum of money, exclusive of the aforesaid grant, has been worked out by the petitioners at their own expence, notwithstanding which they cannot complete the said road without further aid."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from St. Thomas in the East.

" That the house did, in the last session, grant the sum of 50*l.* towards making a road from Shirley-Castle plantation, leading through unsettled lands and Resource plantation, in the parish aforesaid:

" That, in consequence of such road being begun, settlers have been encouraged to form establishments in the country through which it passes:

" That the above-mentioned grant has been faithfully expended, but is insufficient to answer fully the object for which it was intended, although the settlers have contributed towards it."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the sum, granted by the house last year for the road, leading from Cave-Bottom gate to the Look-Out plantation, in the said parish, has been expended on the said road with care and frugality, and laid out to the best advantage thereon, besides other sums in addition thereto; notwithstanding which, from rocks and other difficulties, it will still require a considerable sum to complete the said road."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the petitioners, under many difficulties and heavy expences, made settlements in the interior parts of the parish, upon Roaring-River and its vicinity:

" That the making of good roads through the mountainous parts of the country is attended with great labour and expence: That the petitioners have made a track from Hayfield Works to Sunning-Hill estate, down Roaring-River, according to a diagram formerly sent in; which said track, if carried into effect, and which the petitioners, from pecuniary circumstances, find themselves unable to do, would be the means of encouraging the settlement of a very extensive tract of valuable mountain-land extending up the said Roaring and Wild-Negro rivers."

And praying for relief.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the East was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the sum of money, which the house granted in their last session, towards carrying on and completing the road from Sunning-Hill works, through a valuable tract of wood-land, well adapted to the cultivation of coffee, towards the Whim and Glenmoy plantations, has been faithfully worked out:

" That the opening of the said road will facilitate the settlement of the above land:

" That a considerable sum of money, exclusive of the aforesaid grant, has been worked out by the petitioners at their own expence, notwithstanding which they cannot complete the said road without further aid."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above twenty petitions be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

Petition from planters, &c. of St. Ann.

A petition of the planters, merchants, traders, and inhabitants of St. Ann was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That a great number of the petitioners have settled in the interior of the said parish, and have at great cost and labour cultivated large tracts of land, by which the production of sugar, rum, coffee, pimento, cotton, and other articles of export, has of late years been much increased, and whereby the shipping and commerce to the harbour of St. Ann have become greatly augmented, and now of considerable importance to the united kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland, as well as other parts beyond the seas:

" That the town of St. Ann, of late years, has become much extended, and the inhabitants, from the increase of shipping and commerce, have built valuable stores and wharves, for the convenience of trade and shipping resorting to the port of St. Ann:

" That the said harbour of St. Ann is a commodious and safe harbour, capable of containing a great number of ships and other vessels, where they can lay at anchor with the utmost security, so that it is not in the memory of the petitioners that any ship has been lost in any hurricane, north-wind, or storm, in the said harbour:

" That the said harbour is at the distance of near sixty miles from any port of entry and clearance, by which the petitioners have experienced great inconvenience in their shipping and commercial concerns; that, besides the expence incurred, masters of ships and vessels are much endangered in their health, from being compelled to travel so great a distance on their arrival in this climate to enter their several vessels; and that perishable articles on board are often totally lost, by the delay of landing from five to ten days, which is occasioned for the want of a permit to unlade:

" That the harbour of St. Ann is central, and nearly equidistant from the three ports of entry, Kingston, Port-Antonio, and Montego-Bay; and that its being made a port of entry and clearance would contribute to relieve the evils herein justly complained of, and tend to the ease, profit, and convenience, of all concerned in the ships and vessels trading to and from the said port of St. Ann, as well as to and from the many neighbouring ports of Port-Maria, Oracabeça, Rio-Nova, Ocho-Rios, Dry-Harbour, and Rio-Bueno."

And praying for relief.

That a message be sent to his honour the lieutenant-governor, acquainting him that the house have taken into their most serious consideration, the two propositions contained in his honour's message of the 17th instant:

With regard to any exercise of the management proposed by his honour, which may have obtained before the time of sir Adam Williamson, the house beg leave to observe, that, before the institution of the board of works, the application for grants for barracks was vested by law in other commissioners;

That the house, having experienced the good effects, both as to economy and the situation of the troops, resulting from the present mode of conducting the barrack department, are not disposed to relinquish a system, formed upon the most constitutional principles, and which has hitherto been acted upon with such general benefit to the island:

That, whenever the circumstances of the colony may require the erection of new barracks, the house will always be desirous to receive any suggestions his honour may be pleased to make to them; and that his opinions, upon that as well as upon every other branch of the barrack department, will meet with their most respectful attention.

" MR. SPEAKER,

"I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to lay before the house, an account of sums paid, by his honour's order, for lodging-money and the supply of water for the 55th regiment, which his honour trusts that the house will order to be refunded to the agent-general, that corps being stationed in island barracks: The assembly having last year objected to those charges, for want of sufficient information, the lieutenant-governor wishes to explain the circumstances to the house, when, he trusts, they will see the justice of defraying them: The 6th battalion 60th regiment, although upon the

the island establishment, are stationed in government barracks at Up-Park, where the officers are provided with accommodations without charging lodging-money, and the same corps is supplied with water from a well, which has been sunk at a considerable expence, no water-cart having been charged by that battalion, even when they had to fetch their water from a well, at a great distance, at an adjoining pen: The arrangement of the corps upon the government and island establishments, was made by the commissioners of the board of accounts and the agent-general, for the convenience of the service, in which the lieutenant-governor acquiesced, upon the faith of the house having no objection to it; it being always in his honour's power to place the 6th battalion 60th regiment upon the government establishment, in lieu of the 55th regiment, when the public would have of course supplied the latter corps with lodging-money and water."

NOTE, For accounts and documents see appendix, No. XX.

Fourth message.

"MR. SPEAKER,

"I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to state to the house, that a former assembly having omitted to vote one year's candle-money to the troops (viz. 1802), his honour hopes that the house will take that circumstance into consideration, and grant an allowance this year in addition to the usual grant, in order to make good the deficiency."

NOTE, For accounts see appendix, No. XXI.

"MR. SPEAKER,

"I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to present to the house, an extract from the minutes of the board of forts and fortifications, relative to the deficiency of the funds for supplying the troops with fuel, and to request that the house will make good the same, as well as grant a further sum for the service of the ensuing year."

"JAMAICA,

A petition of Alexander Bayley, collecting constable for St. Catherine, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the vestry of the said parish have, for several years past, assessed the tax on two houses occupied by the 20th light dragoons and the 67th regiment, under the denomination of mess-houses of those regiments:

" That the said houses were hired by the public for those regiments, and one is still so hired for the regiment now stationed in Spanish-Town:

" That the petitioner, on receiving the rolls, made application to the several commanding officers of the regiments, respectively occupying the said houses, for the taxes, who have refused payment, alleging they were exempt from taxation:

" That the petitioner has also applied to the owners of the said houses for such taxes, who have refused to pay, alleging that the country had hired the houses at a specific rent, and desired the petitioner to take his remedy by restraining on the furniture, but which the petitioner did not think himself warranted in levying on:

" That there is now due on the rolls for public and parochial taxes, in the years 1802 and 1803, the sum of 68*l.* as appears by the account annexed, which the petitioner has actually paid, and which he has, from the nature of the case, no opportunity to levy for."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. XXII.

" That the charges in the said account are, to the petitioner's belief, the usual and customary charges."

And praying for relief.

" That the petitioner has employed the persons named in the annexed account in that capacity, who have actually resided and done the said duty at the said fort, for the time and at the salary or allowance therein specified, and for payment whereof the petitioner is responsible."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. XXIV.

A petition of Edward Emerson, captain of Fort-George, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Edward Emerson's petition.

" That there will be due the petitioner the sum of 95*l.* for pay, lodging-money, and allowance, &c. as captain of Fort-George, which is set forth in the annexed account:

" The petitioner also humbly claims compensation for the maintenance of three pioneers attached to the said fort, there being no rations allowed them by the regiment in garrison."

Petition from St. Mary and St. Ann.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. Ann was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the road leading from Franckford-Bay to the intersection of the road

at Maiden-Hall, leading to Spanish-Town, passes through a variety of properties situate in both parishes; and that these properties, giving-in to such of the vestries as suit them, have their road allotments fixed in general in the parish to which they pay taxes:

"That a new road having been completed from Bagnal's to Salt-Gut, many of the properties in Bagnal's find it shorter and better for them to use the new road (and are allotted thereon) than to use the Franckford-Bay road; owing to which circumstance many of the petitioners, who, from their locality, cannot frequent the Salt-Gut road, are forced to use the Franckford road, which is very much out of repair, and, from the deficiency of allotments, cannot be made good; insomuch that some of the petitioners have expended this year, on the said road, considerable sums beyond their road allotment:

"That this road is very much frequented, being a road of communication from the interior of St. Mary to the interior of St. Ann, and to the sea-side, from Guy's Hill, and the country betwixt that and Mount-Diablo:

"That, if once put in good order, the same would be easily kept in repair, the bottom being hard and materials in abundance."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That two successive grants of 50*l.* each, on the road from Louisburg pasture (at the great road from St. Mary to Spanish-Town), by Sue-River, thence by an entire new track of near five miles to Phipps's Mount-Charles, where it joins the Platfield road at the line of St. Andrew, though entirely worked out thereon, were found inadequate to more than fully tracking, levelling, and partially digging the same, sufficient for the passage of an horseman:

"That considerable aid is still requisite, to the removal of rocks and the sufficient widening thereof for the much desired transport of produce and provisions from the said parishes to Kingston:

"That, from the uncommon ease of the said road, its shortened distance through a mountainous country, together with its avoiding rivers, it is found to be most eligible for a large portion of the southern and western part of St. Mary, as also for the north-east part of St. Thomas in the Vale, and the public at large."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That two successive grants of 50*l.* each, on the road from Louisburg pasture (at the great road from St. Mary to Spanish-Town), by Sue-River, thence by an entire new track to Phipps's Mount-Charles to the road to Kingston, though entirely worked out thereon, were found inadequate to the sufficient widening and removal of rocks in the same:

"That, from the uncommon ease of the said road, its shortened distance through a mountainous country, together with its avoiding rivers, it is found to be most eligible for a very large portion of the southern and western part of St. Mary, as also for the north-east part of St. Thomas in the Vale, and the public at large."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Thomas in the Vale.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That

" That the road from Hog-Hole estate to Indian-River, in the said parish, laid out as formerly represented to the house, remains still unfinished, the grants having been faithfully worked out and expended thereon:

" That the said road, when completed, will be of great public utility; but that it is not in the power of the petitioners to complete the same, without further aid from the house."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St Catherine and St Thomas in the Vale.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Catherine and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the road leading from Brooks's Ford and the Spanish-Town bridge across Cedar-Valley mountains towards St. Thomas in the Vale, as it affords a communication between the north and south side parishes during the time of floods, is at such times of great utility to the public, and is the road by which several of the petitioners send produce to market, from their different coffee and provision settlements:

" That the said road, being steep and rocky in many places, is always subject to considerable damage from heavy rains, and is at present in many places much in want of alteration and repair, which the petitioners cannot effect without some assistance."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of sundry freeholders of St. Catherine and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

" That the road leading from the public road to Above-Rocks through Vauxhall mountain, in the parish of St. Catherine, to Broadleaf ford, in the parish of St. Thomas in the Vale, will afford an easy communication between Kingston and St. Thomas in the Vale when the Rio-Cobre is impassable, and is at all times a much shorter bridle-road than that through Spanish-Town:

" That the sum granted by the house last year has been faithfully expended, and has carried the road as far as Vauxhall mountain; but that a further grant will be necessary, not only to repair the road from the Glade pen to join the new road, but to continue it, with some alterations, in order to make easy a very steep and difficult hill."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above six petitions be referred to the committee, appointed to appropriate the grant of 5000*l.* to each county, towards carrying on and completing such internal roads of communication, as may be necessary to encourage settlers to cultivate lands at a distance from the sea.

Mr. Stewart (of Westmorland), from the committee, to whom the petition of the wharfingers of Westmorland was referred, reported, that they had inquired into the allegations therein set forth, found they were true, and were of opinion that a committee should be appointed to prepare and bring in a bill, agreeably to the prayer of the said petition:

Resolved,

That the house do agree to the report:

Ordered,

Bill ordered.

That Mr. Stewart (of Westmorland), Mr. Finlayson, and Mr. Affleck, be a committee for that purpose.

J. Sampson and T. P. Howell's petition reported.

Mr. Edwardes, from the committee, to whom the petition of James Sampson and Thomas Parkes Howell, assignees of Thomas Goulburn, late collecting constable for the parish of Vere, was referred, reported,

That they had examined into the same, and, after deducting the sum of 9*l*. 16*s*. overcharged in the relief recommended to be granted to William Turner, the sum of 275*l*. 9*s*. a relief recommended in like manner to Mr. Osborne, and the further sum of 33*l*. 9*s*. 6*d*. to R. C. Gibb, are of opinion that the remaining sum of 814*l*. 8*s*. 9*d*. instead of 1133*l*. 4*s*. 2*d*. should be remitted to the petitioners, it appearing that the several persons who were over-assessed upon the rolls, and who made application to the magistrates and vestry of the parish of Vere for reliefs, immediately upon receiving their accounts in 1803 for the first time from the petitioners (to whom the arrearage-rolls were not granted till June last), were actually entitled to such reliefs, as set forth by the affidavits attached and presented to the committee, but were prevented from deriving such legal advantages, from the negligence of the late collecting constable; the committee therefore recommend to the house to direct the receiver-general to remit the above sum of 814*l*. 8*s*. 9*d*. upon the judgments obtained against the petitioners, as it appears that no monies will be withheld from the public to which they could have been actually entitled, had the tax accounts been properly rendered to the several persons who came forward in 1803 to apply for reliefs from over-assessments for the preceding years, as stated in the petition:

That it appears, from the deposition of James Sampson, one of the petitioners, that the sum of 243*l*. 11*s*. 9*d*. being 10 per cent. on 2435*l*. 18*s*. 2*d*. the amount of reliefs granted before the issuing of arrearage-rolls to the petitioners, in June last, was not included in the reliefs paid into the receiver-general's office prior to the judgments; the committee recommend that the above sum of 243*l*. 11*s*. 9*d*. be in like manner remitted to the petitioners:

That the sum of 671*l*. 9*s*. 4*d*. the amount of the fourth quarter's deficiency for the year 1797, appearing to have been properly credited to Thomas Goulburn in the receiver-general's books, and no judgments obtained for that sum against the estate of Henry or Thomas Goulburn, the committee are of opinion that the same ought not to be allowed to the petitioners:

That

That the committee, having taken into consideration the great difficulties thrown into the way of the petitioners and of the public, by the conduct of the said Thomas Goulburn, and the confusion of his affairs, and also other obstacles not imputable to the petitioners, recommend it to the house to direct the receiver-general to grant some time for collecting the arrears and paying the amount due into office.

Thomas Balfour's petition.

A petition of Thomas Balfour, wharfinger, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That a negro boy named William, the property of the petitioner, was, in the month of June last past, implicated in a certain rebellious conspiracy with sundry Mungola negroes, two of whom, named Fidelle and Goodluck, were tried at a slave-court held for that purpose, and were found guilty, chiefly if not altogether, upon evidence of the confession made by the said William, under the impression of approaching death, and the slaves were executed according to the sentence passed on them after their trial, as appears by the records in the office of the clerk of the peace of the city and parish aforesaid:

"That the petitioner's said slave, being found in the streets at an unlawful hour, was taken up and confined in the workhouse of the said city, and having made some discoveries relative to arms and ammunition collected and concealed by the aforesaid conspirators Fidelle and Goodluck, was, by their contrivance and machinations, poisoned (as it is supposed) to prevent his making any further discovery, which he seemed inclined to do:

"That, not long after his confinement, he was taken suddenly ill, of which illness he shortly died:

"That an inquest was held on the body of the said negro slave named William, who returned a verdict that he was poisoned by some person or persons unknown; and the petitioner hereunto annexes an affidavit, containing the facts which were delivered in evidence by the petitioner, at the trial of the above-mentioned slaves Fidelle and Goodluck."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above report and petition be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

Petition from justices, &c. of Trelawny.

A petition of the justices and vestry of Trelawny was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the house was pleased to grant the sum of 200*l.* towards defraying the expence of that establishment to the 1st day of September, 1802."

And praying for relief.

And praying for relief.

" That he has, on every occasion when he found it necessary, furnished such medicines as he deemed proper for such prisoners, as will appear by the account hereunto annexed:

" That the prices are such as are usual and customary, and have been submitted to the inspection of two respectable professional gentlemen in the said town of Savanna-la-Mar, who have approved of the same, as by their certificate and attestation, at the foot of the account, will appear:

" That the petitioner hath not hitherto enjoyed or received any salary, reward, or remuneration for such his and his assistant's attendance, or for the medicines so expended by him in the necessary exercise of what he conceived to be his absolute duty:

" That his exertions were more particularly called on by the great number of prisoners confined for small debts, as those people, from the circumstance of their imprisonment, were naturally discontented and querulous, and always exacted a very particular attention:

" That the petitioner has inadvertently let the time for giving in petitions of a private nature elapse, since the period the account begins, whereby he has suffered a great loss."

And praying for relief.

NOTE, For account see appendix, No. XXXIII.

A petition of Thomas W. Hardin, deputy-marshal for the parishes of Hanover, Westmorland, and St. Elizabeth, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

And praying for relief.

"That the receipts and vouchers to establish the account due by the people, hereunto annexed, were lost for a considerable time, and only lately found."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the grant of the last session to repair and amend the road, leading from the line of St. Mary to St. Thomas in the Vale, near Williamsfield, has been expended with great frugality and economy, but, from some very advantageous alterations, has not been adequate to the completion of the said road, which, when finished, would be of great advantage to travellers from Port-Maria and other parts of St. Mary."

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Catherine.

A petition of the freeholders and inhabitants of St. Catherine was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the road from the great Angel road, across the mountains, to St. Thomas in the Vale, is the nearest road of communication from Spanish-Town to the Walks, and that by which the post passes to the northside, when the road leading to St. Thomas in the Vale, and the bridge thereon, is overflowed and rendered impassable:

"That the said road is now in great want of repairs, and that the allotments thereon, together with the monies granted by the house, are inadequate to the repairs of the same, it having been necessary to abandon a great part of the old track, and to make an entire new road for a considerable distance."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and inhabitants of St. Mary and St. Thomas in the Vale was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

And praying for relief.

Petition from Vere.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Vere was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the Hays's Savanna road leading over Harris's Hill and Savanna, is a road of very great public utility:

And praying for relief.

Petition from Clarendon.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Clarendon was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the great barquadier road, at a place called Cole's Hill, above Longueville estate, having proved dangerous for the carriage of produce, and great loss of cattle having been sustained therefrom, the magistrates and vestrymen, in consequence thereof, granted a sum of money for making a turn to avoid the said hill, but which sum has proved insufficient for the intended purpose."

And praying for relief.

James Dick's petition.

A petition of James Dick, of the parish of St. Ann, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the money granted in the last session of the late house of assembly, on the road from Pedro-River to Winefield pen, in St. Ann's, has been diligently and judiciously expended on the above road:

And praying for relief.

Petition from St. Ann.

A petition of sundry inhabitants of St. Ann was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That although the sum, granted last year for the purpose of altering and amending the great road of communication, leading through the interior of the said parish, from the boundary of Trelawny to the intersection of the great road from St. Ann's Bay to Spanish-Town, hath been faithfully and judiciously expended on the said road, yet further aid will still be necessary to complete the same."

And praying for relief.

Ditto.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Hanover was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Petition from Hanover.

" That the road leading from Flint-River to the Crown tavern, is still in want of further assistance from public grants:

" That the sums already granted have been faithfully and diligently worked out on the said road, and it is manifestly improved; but to render it in some places safe and commodious for passengers, and the passage of carts and other carriages, meeting each other, it will be necessary to widen it in those places several feet, in doing which a quantity of gunpowder and considerable labour will be required."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Hanover was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the road leading from Richmond-Vale estate, through the interior settlements of the said parish, to the county-town of Savanna-la-Mar, is still in want of further assistance from public grants, the sums already granted having been faithfully and diligently worked out on the said road, which is greatly improved; but to render it safe and commodious for passengers, it will be necessary to widen it in many parts, and it being through a very wet part of the country, and very loose soft land, it will require great labour in paving."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Hanover was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That a part (in the parish of Hanover) of the main road, leading from Lucea, in the said parish, to the county-town of Savanna-la-Mar, stands greatly in need of some aid from the public grants on roads for the county of Cornwall, the part alluded to commencing at the intersection of the Cacoon road with the said main road, and continuing to the line of Westmoreland, in length about four miles:

" That this part of the said road has had very liberal allotments granted on it annually by the parish, which have been constantly worked out to the best advantage, but have been found inadequate to put that part of the road in that state of repair, as a road of such public communication across the island requires."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Hanover was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the road leading from the western line of Morven, in the said parish, to the line of Westmorland, is very far from being passable, owing to its direction through a very rocky and difficult defile between two mountains:

" That the money granted last session on the road has been economically and faithfully applied, and that it is of very great importance to both parishes."

And praying for relief.

A petition of the freeholders and other inhabitants of Hanover was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, Ditto.

" That the road, leading from Buxton road, in the said parish, and intersecting

that

that leading from the line of Morven towards Westmorland, is still very narrow and dangerous, owing to its direction through a very difficult part of the interior of the said parish:

"That the said road is of the greatest importance, not only in shortening considerably a communication between the neighbourhood of Lucea and the windward part of the parish of Westmorland, but also to several settlements now in a state of infancy in its own neighbourhood:

"That the money, granted before by the house, has had the aid of labour expended on the said road by private individuals to a considerable amount, which was in the most economical and faithful manner applied to the improvement of the said road."

And praying for relief.

And praying for relief.

"That the Chesterfield road, in the parish of St. James, has been considerably improved of late; that the whole of the grants on that road, as well as the parochial grants and private subscriptions, have been expended; that there is a part of the road yet unfinished, and others require paving, to effect which it will require a considerable sum of money more than the parochial grants."

A petition of the justices and vestry of St. James was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That the Eldersley road, in the parish of St. James, has been considerably improved of late; that the greater part of the grants on that road, as well as parochial grants and private subscriptions, have been expended; that there is a part of the road yet unfinished, and others require paving, to effect which it will require a considerable sum of money more than the parochial grants."

And praying for relief.

Petition from Clarendon and St. Elizabeth.

A petition of the freeholders and inhabitants of Clarendon and St. Elizabeth was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That, in the last session of the house, a grant was made towards a new track, laid out in the grand road of communication, between Clarendon and the other parishes on this side, and the parishes of St. Elizabeth, Westmorland, &c. leading through Mile-Gully:

"That the grant, so made by the house, hath been in part expended for the purposes thereof, but the remaining monies have been found insufficient for completing the said track, and the same cannot be accomplished without the further assistance of the house."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

A petition of William M'Farlane was presented to the house, and read, setting forth, William M'Farlane's petition.

"That Mary Ivey, late of the parish of Kingston, a free brown woman, departed this life some time in the month of July, 1797, intestate and without heirs, whereby her property became escheatable:

"That Thorne Latting, an American subject, who then carried on business in Kingston as a merchant, but who has since absconded from his creditors and clandestinely left the island, being then resident in the house of the said Mary Ivey, possessed himself of her property, and obtained administration on her estate to be granted to Sally Ivey Board, a free mulatto woman (formerly a slave of the said Mary Ivey), with whom he cohabited:

"That the said Thorne Latting likewise applied for letters of preference to escheat the property of the said Mary Ivey, which were ordered by his lordship the late lieutenant-governor of this island to be made out for him; but the said Thorne Latting having got possession of her property as aforesaid, never took out the said letters of preference or entered into any security to prosecute the escheat, or took any further steps therein, but on the contrary took upon himself, in connivance with the said administratrix, to sell some of the slaves belonging to the estate of the deceased, and converted the monies arising therefrom to his own use, and caused others of the said slaves to be sent off this island:

"That the petitioner, some time in the month of May, 1798, represented such facts last mentioned to his lordship the late lieutenant-governor by petition, and thereby prayed that the said letters of preference, granted to the said Thorne Latting, might be revoked, and that his lordship would be pleased to grant letters of preference to the petitioner, on his entering into good and sufficient security to prosecute the escheat, which his lordship was pleased to direct accordingly; and the petitioner, having given proper security, obtained letters of preference, and caused a writ of escheat to be issued, returnable as of October grand court, in the said year 1798, which was duly executed, and the property found escheatable and valued by the jury summoned to serve upon the said writ at the sum of 1618*l*. current money of Jamaica, and the several proclamations having been made on the said writ, pursuant to law, judgment passed thereon for the crown as of June grand court, 1799:

"That the petitioner, on obtaining the said letters of preference, found it necessary, in order to get possession of the remaining slaves late of the said Mary Ivey from the said Thorne Latting and the administratrix, and to put a stop to more of them being sent off the island, to apply to have the administration granted to the said Sarah Ivey Board revoked and granted to the petitioner, which the petitioner did, and the same was revoked and granted to the petitioner accordingly:

"That the petitioner afterwards incurred great expence and trouble in obtaining possession of the said slaves, some of which had actually been conveyed on board ship, with a view of being transported off this island:

"That the petitioner, on obtaining the administration, discovered that a judgment was obtained against the former administratrix of the deceased, as of June grand court, 1798, by the said Thorne Latting, for the sum of 53*l.* 10*s.* principal, with interest and costs; and the following actions were soon after brought against him, viz. two actions at the suit of the said Thorne Latting, one being for goods sold and delivered, and monies paid and advanced for the deceased, in her life-time, amounting, according to the account delivered, to the sum of 489*l.* 1*s.* 11*d.* and the other for funeral charges of the deceased and her son, amounting also, by the account delivered, to the sum of 236*l.* 7*s.* 0½*d.*; one action at the suit of Jordan Latting, upon a bond of the deceased, dated 25th April, 1797, for the principal sum of 1000*l.*; one other action at the suit of Charles Latting, upon a bond of the deceased, dated 11th July, 1796, for the principal sum of 480*l.*; an action at the suit of Bogle, Cathcart, and company, on an open account; and an action at the suit of the executors of George Aldred, deceased, on a doctor's bill:

" That the petitioner, having great reason to believe that such four actions at the suit of the Lattings were brought with the fraudulent intention of establishing judgments against the estate of the said deceased, without any just demand being due in respect of either, stated the circumstances of such suspicion to the honourable George Crawford Ricketts, esquire, the late attorney-general, and to Edmund Pusey Lyon, esquire, as his counsel, who advised him to contest the five first of the said actions at law, and to file bills immediately in the court of chancery, for an injunction against the proceedings at law upon the said two actions on the bonds: That, upon investigation, it was found that Charles Latting, at whose suit one of the said actions was brought, and who was an absentee, was not duly represented in this island; and, upon motion of the petitioner's counsel, on an affidavit of such circumstances, the said action at his suit was discontinued by order of the grand court, and has never since been again instituted:

" That the petitioner, pursuant to the advice of his counsel, filed a bill of injunction against the said Jordan Latting, who caused his appearance to be entered thereto, but afterwards stood out all process of contempt to a sequestration, for want of his answer, and the bill being taken pro confesso against him, a decree for a perpetual injunction was made therein:

" That the two first of the said actions were kept depending without being moved, although the petitioner was served with notice of trial for each court, and was obliged to subpœna many witnesses, material for his defence, from February grand court, 1799, until August Surrey assizes, 1801, when the first of the said actions was brought on; and on an objection of the petitioner's counsel to the plaintiff's declaration, a nonsuit obtained, which was afterwards struck off by the court, and the said action again tried in January Surrey assizes, 1802, when the plaintiff obtained judgment for the sum of 407*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* with costs:

" That the second of the said actions has been discontinued, under a rule of the grand court, for want of proceedings, and has not been again instituted:

" That, in the prosecution of such suit in chancery, and in defence of the said action at law, the petitioner hath incurred very considerable expence: That, in the apportionment of the value of escheated property, one third is allowed to the party prosecuting and obtaining a patent, for defraying the expences thereof and for his own benefit, and for the other two thirds bond is given to the receiver-general, payable in three years, without interest:

" That the petitioner, on the 6th day of June, 1800, obtained a patent for the

the property he so escheated, and thereupon granted his bond to William Mitchell, esquire, receiver-general, and the receiver-general for the time being, in the penal sum of 2157*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.* conditioned for payment of the sum of 1078*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* in three years from the date thereof, without interest:

"That the said bond is taken for the full two-thirds of the value of the said property, as ascertained by the jury, without any deduction for the expences incurred by the petitioner, for the benefit of the said estate, as before stated, or for the debts so as aforesaid stated to have been established by judgments against it:

"That the jurors, on their inquest, valued all the negroes which the said Mary Ivey deceased possessed, including three mulatto slaves which were sent off the island by the said Thorne Latting, as will appear by their inquisition; the fact of their being sent off not being then perfectly ascertained, and it being thought possible the said slaves might be recovered:

"That such slaves have never come to the possession of the petitioner, nor are likely to be recovered by him:

"That the petitioner has been obliged to pay the amount of the said judgment debts, established as aforesaid against the estate, to prevent the other negroes from being levied upon and sold, as will appear by the receipts and documents hereto annexed, to which the petitioner refers:

"That the whole of such debts and expences thereon, and the costs incurred by the petitioner as administrator of the said deceased, and in the said suits, amounts to the sum of 1172*l.* 11*s.* 8½*d.* as will appear by the accounts annexed, marked No. 1, 2, 3, and 4; and which, together with the value of the said three mulatto slaves, will be a total loss to the petitioner, unless the same shall be allowed in payment of his bond granted to the receiver-general, or in some other manner relieved therefrom:

"That the said bond hath lately become due, and the same hath been put in suit against the petitioner and his sureties, as of the last October grand court, and the petitioner is apprehensive judgments will be taken thereon at the next ensuing Surrey assizes, which will be in January, 1804:

"That the one-third of the value of the property so escheated has been barely sufficient to pay the expences of the said escheat, as will appear by the statement thereof hereto annexed, marked No. 4, to which the petitioner also craves leave to refer."

And praying for relief.

John Ellis's petition.

A petition of John Ellis, esquire, by Richard Appleton his attorney, was presented to the house, and read, setting forth,

"That, by an act of the lieutenant-governor, council, and assembly, of this island, made and passed in the forty-second year of the reign of his present majesty, entitled, 'An act to empower his honour George Nugent, esquire, lieutenant-governor and commander in chief, or the governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander in chief, for the time being, to purchase land whereon to erect barracks or buildings, in the interior of this island, and for other purposes,' it is enacted, 'That it shall and may be lawful for George Nugent, esquire, lieutenant-governor and commander in chief, or the governor, lieutenant-governor, or commander in chief, for the time being, to purchase, at the expence of this island, certain certain pieces or parcels of land, in such districts in the interior of this island, or elsewhere, as to him shall seem meet and expedient, whereon to erect barracks or quarters for troops, and to open such roads of easy communication thereto, as by him shall be judged proper and necessary;' and further, 'That it shall and may be lawful to and for any justice of the peace, upon application by the governor, lieutenant-governor, and commander in chief, for the time being, to issue his warrant to the provost-marshal-general to impanel, summon, and return a jury, to inquire into certain matters relating thereto:'

"That his honour George Nugent, esquire, lieutenant-governor of this island, having fixed upon part of Fort-George pen, the property of the petitioner, whereon to build barracks, on or about the 23d day of March, 1803, requested David Sheriff, esquire, one of the justices of the peace for the parish of St. George, to summon a jury to inquire of the value of the one hundred acres of the said land so fixed on:

"That the said David Sheriff, in pursuance of the said request, issued his warrant to the provost-marshal-general of this island, on the 9th day of March, 1803, to warn twenty-four good and lawful men of the said parish of St. George, to appear at Annotto-Bay on Monday the 23d day of May last, to inquire into the value of the said land, and to inquire into the estate and interest of all persons possessed thereof or interested therein, and to assess and award such sum of money for the purchase thereof, as in their judgment should seem proper:

"That the petitioner's said attorney, having been served with notice of the said proceedings, applied for and obtained from the chief justice of this island, a writ of certiorari to remove the said proceedings into the supreme court of judicature of this island:

"That the said matter coming on to be argued in the said supreme court, in June grand court last, the said proceedings were quashed:

"That his honour George Nugent, esquire, on the 23d day of July last, again requested the said David Sheriff to issue his warrant, for the summoning another jury to value the said land:

"That the said David Sheriff accordingly, on the 26th day of July last, again issued his warrant to the provost-marshal-general, to summon and warn a jury to meet at Annotto-Bay, on the 10th day of August then next, to value the same:

"That the said attorney of the petitioner attended at the meeting, and the jury valued the said land at the sum of 5166*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.*:

"That the said attorney of the petitioner, being advised that the said proceedings were irregular, applied to the supreme court of judicature of this island, and obtained a writ of certiorari for removing the said proceedings, for irregularity, into the said supreme court:

"That the counsel concerned to support the said proceedings, having moved to quash the petitioner's said writ of certiorari, as improvidently issued, the said supreme court, upon hearing counsel on both sides, denied that motion; whereupon the said counsel, who had moved to quash the said writ, applied for and obtained an order of the said court to quash the said proceedings:

"That the said land, intended to be laid out for the building of barracks thereon, as before stated, is not distant more than two miles and a half from the sea, and is in the neighbourhood of sugar-works and of Annotto-Bay:

"That it was the petitioner's intention to have settled a considerable part of the lands of Fort-George pen into a sugar-work, and to have placed the works intended to have been erected close to the said land; a water-mill could be erected, and a guttering, at an easy expence, conducted nearly the whole way on the surface of the ground:

"That, if the said land is appropriated for the building of barracks thereon, the petitioner will be greatly discouraged from carrying his intentions into execution, the said land being the first part of the said Fort-George pen that would be planted in canes, the same being of a fit quality for that purpose; and ninety-eight acres, other part of the said land intended to be planted in canes, would be thereby rendered useless to the petitioner for such culture, as the same would be divided from the other part of the property intended to be planted in canes, and as the access thereto would be extremely difficult, unless carried through the spot or place fixed for the barracks, and buildings appurtenant thereto:

"That the petitioner does not conceive the sum awarded by the said jury is by any means the value of the said land, and a compensation to the petitioner for the injury his property will sustain, if the said land is appropriated for barracks."

And praying for relief.

Ordered,

That the above petition do lie on the table, for the perusal of the members.

Two messages from his honour the lieutenant-governor, by his secretary, as follows: Two messages from his honour, with

First message.

"MR. SPEAKER,

"I am commanded by the lieutenant-governor to lay before the assembly, an extract of a letter from the right honourable lord Hobart, dated Downing-street, September 6th, 1802, which his honour hopes that the house will take into their most serious consideration.

"The lieutenant-governor trusts that the loyalty, justice, and liberality of the assembly of Jamaica will not be less conspicuous at this eventful period, in contributing to the maintenance of a part of their military establishment, than upon former occasions, and particularly when they have maturely considered the absolute necessity of the establishment of a regular force in the island, much above the numbers usually stationed therein, the impolicy of relying wholly on a naval force for their protection being self-evident.

"His

"His honour cannot but express a hope, that at a time when all classes of his majesty's subjects are called upon to contribute, in a most unprecedented manner, to the exigencies of the public service, the inhabitants of Jamaica will not be the last to step forward to prove their patriotism and determination to stand or fall with the mother-country, by contributing their full proportion to the support of the empire."

Extract of the letter alluded to in the above message.

extract of a letter from lord Hobart,

'I have had the honour of laying before his majesty your letter of the 10th of July, with the printed copy of the proceedings of the assembly of Jamaica that accompanied it, and I have the king's commands to acquaint you that his majesty sees, in those communications, additional reason to approve the zeal which has distinguished your public conduct.

'The principle upon which the island of Jamaica was called upon to contribute, in a greater degree than it had hitherto done, towards the expence of its own protection, has been so fully stated in my former dispatches that it appears unnecessary, at this time, to enter further into the discussion of it.

'If his majesty's subjects residing in the island of Jamaica did contribute their full proportion to the general expences of the empire, there might be some ground to support the argument that has been urged against their making a separate provision for defraying the expence of the land force that may be stationed for the protection of the island; but as such an argument, dispassionately examined, will be found wholly untenable, it is to be hoped that a reconsideration of the principle, upon which your proposition was made to the assembly, will lead to a more satisfactory result, and that the decision will rather be governed by the means of providing the supply, than by arguments that bespeak less liberality than might have been expected from the island of Jamaica.

'I cannot therefore but entertain a hope, that when the assembly shall meet again, an opinion will be found to prevail in favour of a measure, the adoption of which would be so well calculated to strengthen the relation which unites the interests of Jamaica with the parent state.

'Upon reference to the abstract of the correspondence between his majesty's ministers and your predecessors, of which I sent you a copy with my dispatch of the 4th February last, you will find that when the assembly applied to government, in November, 1791, to augment the four regiments which were then stationed at Jamaica from four hundred to seven hundred each, and to add a regiment of light dragoons, it was expressly stated by the secretary of state, in his answer to lord Effingham, that as the establishment on the island was then nearly double the strength that had usually, in time of peace, been thought necessary for its protection, it would be expected that the island should make provision for any augmentation, which, from local circumstances or considerations of interior policy, the assembly might wish to have; and, with this explanation, measures were immediately taken by government for sending to Jamaica three regiments and the 20th light dragoons.

'I have adverted to this circumstance, as an instance of the sense which his majesty's servants at that time entertained of the propriety of calling upon the legislature of Jamaica, to make provision for the expence of the augmented military establishment, which they applied to have stationed for the protection of the island.

'Similar

'Similar considerations operated at a late period, and produced the arrangement by which the assembly engaged to pay two thousand men, under an assurance that black troops should not be employed on the island of Jamaica: When circumstances afterwards compelled his majesty's ministers, in the prosecution of a war which called for the application of every resource, to introduce black troops into Jamaica, they adopted that measure under an express declaration that they considered the assembly as no longer bound to their engagement for the pay of two thousand men, and from that period the provision for this service has been made from hence, thereby dissolving the compact that had been entered into, and not violating it, as has been inadvertently stated by the assembly.

'The events which have lately taken place at St. Domingo; the reduction in the army on that island; and the return of the French naval force from that station to Europe, have all contributed to render it probable that it may not be found necessary to retain so large a military establishment in the island of Jamaica, as was thought expedient some months ago; and I have his majesty's commands to direct that you should not apply to the assembly for a larger contribution than may be requisite for the pay and subsistence of three thousand men; and, as the 20th dragoons have been removed, the expence to be borne by the island would in fact be brought under the amount at which it would have stood upon the arrangement of 1798, when they agreed to maintain two thousand infantry and the 20th light dragoons: It is not, however, intended so to limit the protection that may be required for the security of Jamaica, but to express his majesty's pleasure, upon a full consideration of all circumstances, that the island shall not be called upon for a larger contribution than that which has been stated.

'Under a full persuasion that the concurrence of the assembly will be obtained, to the extent of the contribution now proposed, you are authorized to accede to their wishes upon the subject of the 2d West-India regiment; but if, contrary to the reasonable expectations of his majesty's government, the assembly should not concur even to that extent, the intention of removing the black troops must be laid aside.'

Ordered,

That the above message be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island.

Second message.

"MR. SPEAKER,

"I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to lay before the house, a memorial from the captains of the forts in the harbour of Kingston,

Kingston, and the island engineer, and to state, in addition thereto, that, as the 600l. in question has been annually granted, and has become due to them, the house will continue to grant that sum for their benefit.

" I am directed also to state, that, as a superior officer of the royal engineers has been appointed by the master-general of the ordnance, upon the lieutenant-governor's application, to proceed to Jamaica, to take upon himself the offices of island engineer and surveyor of public works, for the advantage of the island, upon the faith of receiving a certain annual income from the public, his honour trusts that the house will not diminish that income, by making a deduction of 200*l.* per annum, from what was the pay during the late war, independent of the 96*l.* per annum, usually allowed to that officer, for boat-money, out of the 600*l. before mentioned: The travelling expences of the island barrackmaster-general having also been struck off at the termination of the late war, the lieutenant-governor hopes that the house will, from the renewal of the war, grant that officer the usual allowance for that service.*

" His honour the lieutenant-governor commands me to add, that he cannot take leave of this subject without observing to the house of assembly, the impossibility of his carrying on the public service unless the salaries and allowances usually granted to public officers of such utility are considered as fixed and permanent, as no officer of reputation or ability could be procured for the service of Jamaica upon any other terms."

' That such sum of 600*l.* has annually been paid to and amongst your memorialists, in certain proportions, by and under the order of the said commissioners:

Report from committee appointed to inspect the Botanic garden in Liguanea. Mr. Smith, from the committee, appointed to examine the state and condition of the Botanic garden in Liguanea, reported,

That they had lately visited that place, and, upon inspecting its cultivation and improvement, had the pleasure of stating, that they found the garden in the best order, and that considerable acquisitions had been made of elegant and useful plants: Mr. Wiles laid before the committee his garden journal, by which it appeared that he had distributed one thousand three hundred and eighty-six plants, of various kinds, for propagation, since the last meeting; he also produced his contingent account, with the vouchers in support of it, for negro clothing, tools, provisions, &c. purchased by him, amounting to 196*l*. 8*s*. 2*d*. against which he has given credit for coffee sold by him, to the amount of 90*l*. and for negro labour jobbed out, 117*l*. 7*s*. 6*d*. so as to leave a balance in his hands of 10*l*. 18*s*. 9*d*. for which he is to account; and the balance at the credit of this establishment, in the hands of the receiver-general, on the 30th September last, was 276*l*. 9*s*. 9*d*.: The committee proceeded to view the negroes belonging to the garden, and, upon estimating their respective value, they consider them to be somewhat improved since last year:

Mr.

Mr. Wiles has requested the committee to present to the house the annexed copy, drawn out by him, of doctor Broughton's catalogue of exotic plants in the garden, including such as have been since acquired: They understand from Mr. Wiles, that neither the soil nor climate of the present garden is congenial to the most valuable plants to be expected from the East-Indies, the Cape of Good Hope, or from any part of Europe; and, as the public is already in possession of some valuable land in the neighbourhood of the Jamaica Spa, which is situate in a much higher, and consequently in a much cooler climate, they are of opinion that a garden for the cultivation of such plants may be established on the said land, especially as there is at the Liguanea garden a sufficient number of negroes for the cultivation of both, and it is conceived that this may be effected without any additional expence to the country:

Resolved,

Mr.

Report from select committee.

Mr. Sliand, from the select committee, to whom his honour the lieutenant-governor's first message of the 29th November, accompanied by an extract of a letter from lord Hobart, was referred, reported,

That it be recommended to the house, to send a message to his honour the lieutenant-governor, in answer to his first message of the 29th day of November, accompanied by an extract of a letter from the right honourable lord Hobart, dated September 6th, 1802, to inform his honour that the house have given the fullest and most mature consideration to the application, contained in the said communications, for a permanent contribution, from this island, of what shall be requisite for the British pay to three thousand troops, in addition to the usual pay and subsistence for which the faith of the country is pledged; and have paid the greatest attention to the reasons for making such application, which his honour has been pleased to submit to the house in his message, and the communications therein referred to:

That the house have to observe, with the utmost regret, that, from the date of lord Hobart's letter, and the previous dispatches alluded to, it appears that whilst measures were adopted, to relieve the inhabitants of the mother-country from the pressure of the heaviest taxes, after the termination of a long and expensive war, his majesty's loyal subjects in this island, in place of participating in the general blessings of peace, were to be called on for augmented and unusual contributions, grievous in their amount, oppressive in their principle:

That the house feel it their duty explicitly to represent, that they never can relinquish or compromise that principle, by which their constituents claim an equal right, to external protection and internal security, with his majesty's subjects resident in the mother-country, by means of the united force, and at the common expence, of the empire; nor can they agree to the assertion, that the inhabitants and proprietors of this island do not contribute their full proportion to the general expence:

That the house admit, that when the peculiar circumstances of the West-India islands obliged the assembly, in November, 1791, to apply to government for an augmentation of the forces stationed here, his majesty's then ministers took advantage of the dangers and apprehension of the inhabitants, to propose conditions before unheard of, "that the island should take upon itself the expence of any addition to the usual peace establishment which should be thought necessary, from local causes or circumstances of internal policy:" Although this proposal was far short of the measure now applied for, and was supported by the consideration, that the very circumstances which created the danger, afforded to the colony means of supporting the expence, from the increased demand and enhanced price of its staples; yet the assembly, in a message to his honour the then lieutenant-governor, declared it inadmissible, and, in an humble address transmitted to his majesty on the same occasion, asserted their title to equal protection, which they claimed as a right most valuable, and not to be given up:

That the house also admit, that in the year 1797 the same ministers, having introduced into this colony a body of armed black slaves, in direct opposition to the sentiments of the people, and the remonstrances of their representatives, to the imminent hazard of eradicating those opinions, and subverting that local policy, on which the authority of the white inhabitants is founded, and has been supported more efficaciously than by superior force, the assembly were obliged, by imperious necessity, to submit to a deviation from the constitutional principle they had ever asserted, and to propose a substitute for these armed slaves, which which involved a considerable expence, falling exclusively on the island, but still very different from the proposition now made, and having for a basis the prospect of augmenting the white population, and compensating the immediate expenditure, by adding to the future security of the country:

That the year 1798, when the arrangement for this substitution was concluded, was a season of great prosperity, when all our staples were selling at a very high price, and the assembly might flatter themselves with being able to raise the funds necessary, without inconvenience, as they could not be expected to foresee the ruinous measures adopted by the minister the following year:

That the house have the deepest concern in being obliged to represent what cannot indeed have escaped his honour's observation, although it seems to be altogether unknown to his majesty's ministers, that the resident inhabitants of this island are in circumstances the very reverse of those which existed in 1791 and 1798, and cannot raise the taxes, which have become necessary for the common contingencies of government, but with the utmost difficulty:

That this distress began in the year 1799, when an impolitic attempt to make the foreign consumer of West-India produce pay British duties, occasioned such a stagnation or diversion of the trade into other channels, that the consumption and demand in the markets of Great-Britain bore no proportion to the quantity imported: The depression of price which soon took place, left nothing for the planter, after paying the heavy duties and charges on his commodity:

That, although the effect of this improvident measure was immediate, the alteration which was expected, when the evil was admitted and a remedy applied, by restoring the drawback and bounty, has been slow and fluctuating; our agriculture and commerce never have recovered from this shock, nor have our staples obtained a fair and equal price: Without entering into minute calculation, the house can appeal to the notoriety of the fact, when they aver that in place of contributing only a share of the general expences of the empire, in the proportion of their net revenue, the sugar-planters of this island have, for the last four years, had nearly their whole income torn from them, by duties which cannot even be alleged to fall on the consumer, when nothing is left to the grower for labour or capital:

That the late addition of new and unequal imposts; the annulling those laws which gave a decided and just preference to the produce of the British colonies in the markets of the mother-country; the adopting regulations, tending to encourage the transfer of British capital, for the cultivation of sugar in the East-Indies, whilst the consumption is already unequal to the growth of the old colonies, deprive us of all prospect of any favourable alteration, and create the most serious alarm that the ruin of these colonies will be consummated, whilst its approach does not seem even to be suspected by the framers of such laws and regulations:

That the expence of carrying on plantations in the West-India islands, augmented lately by many local causes, increased indirectly by every impost on the British manufacturer, and directly by duties levied on the exports for our use and consumption, leave no room for fair competition with those who shall embark in the cultivation of sugar in the East-Indies, unfettered by these disadvantages, and with power to send their produce, direct to any market, in foreign vessels:

That this expence has been greatly enhanced by the restrictions on our intercourse with the United States of North-America, not only without benefit to the mother-mother-country, but to her manifest injury when viewed in all their consequences. That the articles supplied are of prime and indispensable necessity is admitted; that they cannot be furnished by the united kingdom of Great-Britain and Ireland, or any dependency of the empire, is evinced by twenty years experience; that they cannot be transported in British bottoms, at least during war, is equally evident; yet the planters of this island are restrained from paying for what they cannot forego, by bartering a small part of the commodities they possess, and are drained of the specie wanted for common circulation, and of large quantities of bullion, which would centre in Great-Britain; whilst the cultivation of their staples is cramped, and the quantity of what would be sent to the mother-country, in more favourable circumstances, most probably diminished:

That in a period of distress and difficulty, brought on and prolonged by causes of such unusual magnitude and duration, the taxes raised within the island have been beyond former precedent, from the pressure of a heavy debt, but more particularly from the increased expences of our military establishment:

That, in the years 1776 and 1777, the pay and subsistence of his majesty's troops, on the island establishment, cost this country 18,750*l. per annum:*

That, in the years 1781, 1782, and 1783 (when on an average there were on the establishment 2898 persons, exclusive of officers), the total annual expence amounted to 44,446*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.*:

That, in the session of 1802, the sum paid and provided for one year's expence of the troops and barracks, on the island establishment, was 189,199*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.* exclusive of a grant to his excellency the commander in chief for 20,000*l.* being more than ten times the charge at the commencement of the American war, and upwards of four times the annual expence in the last years of that unfortunate contest, when the number actually provided for differed little from the present establishment, and all kinds of provisions and means of subsistence were at very advanced prices:

That there is no reason to believe that the expences of the army and barrack department, to be provided for the ensuing year, can be reduced below those of the present, which alone are equal to what could be raised by a poll-tax of 13*s.* annually:

That the house, without meaning to wave or compromise the right of their constituents to equal protection with their fellow-subjects, have thought it material to recapitulate some of the reasons which justified the former decision of the house of assembly, alluded to by lord Hobart's letter:

That these reasons, for inducing a similar determination on the present occasion, continue in full force: A more detailed exposition of them would evince, that little of that disposition, and none of those measures (which his lordship is pleased to recommend to us, as calculated to strengthen the relation which unites the interest of Jamaica with that of the parent state), have been manifested or adopted on her part: It would assuredly demonstrate too clearly, the present distressed situation of this colony, and that the house had not come to the resolution of refusing the contribution applied for, but on full consideration of the means they possess, and a perfect conviction of the impracticability of raising the supply required:

That the house, anxious to cultivate this disposition, forbear from commenting on the doctrine of dissolving a compact at the pleasure of one of the contracting parties, although destructive of all public confidence, and most alarming to the weaker side; and lament that their duty compels them to express their surprise and concern that his majesty's present ministers, whose moderation and respect for the constitution have been the subject of deserved eulogy, should direct to be submitted to the representatives of the loyal inhabitants of this island, a proposition of the highest importance to their constituents and their prosperity, not to be discussed on its own merits, not to be rejected or acceded to after weighing its effects and consequences on our constitution, and in our actual situation, but accompanied by a threat, that if the deliberate and unbiassed voice of this house declared it inadmissible, we must expect that a body of regimented slaves, introduced in opposition to the unanimous opinion of the inhabitants, and the collective voice of all who are interested in the welfare, of this island, shall be continued in its bosom, the object of universal abhorrence; a singular monument of pertinacity in speculative opinions, in opposition to practical and sober experience; a body, contemptible as the means of protection, formidable only in the danger of its example, and as an instance of an armed force kept up in the colony, after it has been declared dangerous and unconstitutional by the representatives of the people.

Resolved, nem. con.

That the house do agree to the report.

That, since the report made to the house on the 7th December, 1802, the printers have made considerable progress in the printing of the eighth volume of the Journals, commencing in the year 1784; and that they have informed the committee that it will be completed and delivered to the members, early in the ensuing year:

Report from board of works.

Mr. Mitchell, from the commissioners of the board of works, reported,

That they had procured a plan and estimate of the arsenal and guard-house, which the house have directed to be built in Spanish-Town, and beg leave to submit the same to the consideration of the house:

The commissioners have to observe, that as the expence of purchasing the land and buildings will amount to 2000*l.* it will therefore be necessary that a further grant of 5500*l.* should be made to the board, to enable them to comply with the order of the house on this subject.

Resolved,

That the house do agree to the report.

General report from ditto.

Mr. Mitchell, from the commissioners of the board of works, further reported,

That the different repairs, directed by the house to be made, last session, to the public buildings and barracks, are all completed, with the exception of the court-house and assembly-room in Spanish-Town; which the commissioners thought it prudent to postpone, on account of the very high estimates rendered

to

to them; and also with the exception of those at Black-River, for which no estimate has been received:

That the several sub-committees, appointed by the board, have reported, that the following repairs are necessary; which the commissioners beg leave to submit to the consideration of the house:

SPANISH-TOWN.

That the barracks and hospital are in very complete repair: A paved guttering is required from the well to the new kitchen, and also one in front of the hospital; the frames of the windows, and part of the pavement in the stores under the hospital require some trivial repairs; a few tables and forms are also wanted for the barrack; the flooring of the soldiers' necessary requires to be new laid; and that the roof of the new kitchen should be covered with tar and ochre.

King's House.—Some trifling repairs are wanted; nine jealousies are required for the windows, a lamp for the entrance hall, and two lamps for the great hall; the brick and stone work require pointing in several parts of the building; the book-case in the library wants two doors, and two pairs of card-tables are wanted for the drawing-room; the floor in the bed-rooms, and upper gallery, also requires some repairs; the expence of these repairs is estimated at 500*l.*

The commissioners have annexed to this report, a memorandum of the number of servants attached to the king's house; and his honour the lieutenant-governor having intimated a wish that five more men servants, and the same number of female servants, should be purchased, the board beg leave to submit to the house, the propriety of authorizing them to make such purchase.

PORT-ROYAL.

Barracks.—That the balcony of the new mess-room requires to be jealousied, and a railing to be put to the steps.

A Kitchen is also wanted for the officers; a set of four large and two round ends of mahogany tables, and three dozen chairs, are also wanted; the partition-wall of the barracks and old mess-room should be taken down, and the mess-room be taken into the soldiers' barracks; the barracks want whitewashing and painting; six new sentry-boxes, and the new canteen, require to be painted; the passage through the lower barrack wants paving.

Hospital.—Some boards of the garret are rotten, and some new steps are wanted to the stairs leading to the garret; the masonry at the bottom of the rooms for infantry requires repair; some places in the roof admit the rain; and three window-shutters are also wanting.

The Soldiers' Necessary requires repair; sixteen window-shutters in the barracks are unserviceable; twenty-two fastenings for window-shutters are wanted for the barracks; twenty-three hinges are unserviceable; and one hundred and fourteen window-bars are wanting for the barracks, hospital, bake-house, and guard-rooms; and six locks and keys for the same buildings. The expence is estimated at 500*l.*

STONEY-HILL BARRACKS.

Centre Barracks.—Soldiers' necessary is so situate as to be extremely offensive and unwholesome, and ought to be removed.

South Barrack.—Wants plastering and whitewashing; the lower part of some of the windows to be closed up; some shutters are wanting.

General Hospital.—Guard-house entirely decayed; new one requisite.

Officers' Barrack.—Wants painting, some plastering, a few window-shutters, and eleven strong chamber-door locks are wanted.

Tank.—Walls cracked from top to bottom, northside and southside (said to be by an earthquake the 25th of December last); will hold no water, and is incapable of repair. The expence of which is estimated at 400*l.*

KINGSTON BARRACKS.

That the drain in the rear of the barracks is quite full, extremely offensive, and unhealthy; an occasional supply of lime, for whitewashing the men's barracks and for the privys, is wanted; the officers' and men's barracks want a few shingles; the water falls down between the staircase and the wall when washing the gallery, by which much damage is done to the building; there are no quartermaster-sergeants' rooms in the barracks; the water-spouts want repairing and cleaning; a window should be broke through the provision-store, towards the street; twelve projecting sheds over the commanding officer's windows are required, and the windows of the captains' quarters, on the lower story, require sheds to protect them from the eastern and western sun; one of the captains' rooms wants jealousies; a shed for the officers' chaises is wanted; the gallery under the hospital wants repairing; the steps to the men's barracks require some little repair; six mahogany leaved tables, twelve deal toilet ditto, and nine deal chairs, are wanting to complete the officers' rooms; five large deal tables and ten forms are wanting for the hospital; three large deal tables and eight forms are wanting to complete the soldiers' barrack, according to the barrack regulations; and one deal table and two deal chairs are required for the staff sergeant. The expence attending the above is estimated at 500*l.*

FORT-AUGUSTA.

That the several repairs ordered last year have been completed, and that the buildings are in good order, with the following exceptions: That the large soldiers' barrack leaks in several places; and that the roof, which is good, is in danger of being injured, that the decayed boards should be replaced, and the whole building new shingled, and a few boards are wanted in the floor; that the house formerly inhabited by the lieutenant of the fort is at present occupied by a field-officer; the commissioners recommend that it should be painted and whitewashed, and that a board or two in the balcony should be taken out and replaced, and locks with bolts put on two doors; at the house of the captain of the fort a few repairs both in mason's and carpenter's work are wanting, trifling in themselves, but necessary to prevent future expence; captain Dobbin offers to get the whole completed for 20*l.* if a jug of oil, and twelve pounds of paint, shall be furnished from the island stores; and the commissioners recommend that mode of doing the work in question. The expence attending the several alterations and repairs is estimated at 435*l.*

TWELVE APOSTLES BATTERY.

That the house used by the captain and other officers is in want of a coat of paint and whitewashing, and requires seven locks and two pairs of hinges.

That the ovens and hearths in the cook-room, used by the captain for the other officers and for the soldiers, require some trifling repairs; and, in the latter, a large boiler, formerly built in the wall, should be again placed in the same situation.

That the soldiers' necessary is in want of a few shingles, and a pair of door hinges; that of the officers a new lock.

That a very valuable building, used occasionally as convalescent quarters, is going to destruction for want of common care; at present it is a receptacle for goats and filth; as the means of preventing it, the commissioners recommend that eleven new window-shutters may be put on it, the others repaired, and locks put on the doors. The expence is estimated at 150*l.*

that

The commissioners take leave to add, that, struck with the situation of this last-mentioned building, and the appearance of the soldiers' necessary, from which it was evident the shingles had been torn, they inquired of captain Craskell who was responsible for the care of the buildings at his post; they were informed that there was no barrackmaster, and that captain Craskell did not consider it part of his duty to take care of the buildings.

The commissioners have therefore to call the consideration of the house to this situation; and to submit, that laying out money at this post will be mere waste, unless the only officer there, paid by the country, whose duties in other respects must be trifling, shall pay attention to, and be responsible for, all the buildings at this post.

LUCEA BARRACKS.

That sundry repairs are required, which are estimated at 300*l.*

FORT-HALDANE.

The barracks are in want of some repairs; cradles, forms, and tables, are also wanting; these several articles are estimated at 400*l.*

SAVANNA-LA-MAR.

Gaol.—The gaol is much out of repair; the whole building requires to be shingled, and the walls raised; these repairs are estimated at 600*l.*

Barracks.—Require some repairs, which are estimated at 500*l.*

PORT-ANTONIO.

Some repairs and additions are necessary at these barracks, the estimate of which amounts to 500*l.*

MAROON-TOWN.

Sundry repairs are still wanting, which are estimated at 500*l.*

ADMIRAL'S PEN.

The commissioners recommend to the house, to grant to their order a sum not exceeding 500*l.* to put in repair the fences belonging to the admiral's pen.

The board of forts and fortifications having referred to the board of works an account of Mr. Buss, for lighting the king's house, the commissioners have annexed the same to this report, and recommend to the house to order payment thereof.

Should the house think proper to order the different articles of public work stated in this report, the commissioners beg leave to recommend that, in consequence of the great difficulty of procuring estimates for work with any degree of accuracy, the sum of 10,000*l.* should be granted to their order, leaving the actual balance of 634*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* which appears to be in the hands of the receiver-general, applicable to their order, after all the contracts are completed, and the former orders of the house carried into effect, as a fund for any unforeseen or extraordinary emergencies, which may occur in the course of the ensuing year.

Spanish-Town, Jamaica, Dec 17, 1803.

Two messages from his honour the lieutenant-governor, by his secretary, as follows: Two messages from lieutenant governor,

First message.

" Mr. Speaker,

" I am directed by the lieutenant-governor to state to the house, that the barrack now occupied on Quashie-River has no furniture for officers or men, and that no barrack-master has been appointed, as to the other island barracks; his honour therefore trusts, that the house will take those circumstances into consideration." respecting furniture, &c. for the barrack at Quashie-River;

Second message.

" Mr. Speaker,

" I am commanded by his honour the lieutenant-governor to and stating the result of a communication with sir J. T. Duckworth, relative to prisoners of war.

inform the house, that he has communicated with sir John Thomas Duckworth on the subject of the number of prisoners of war now in this island, and, as his honour finds that the admiral's instructions strictly enjoin him not to hire vessels for the purpose of sending prisoners to Europe, but to avail himself, from time to time, of the opportunities which may offer in vessels employed in the service of government, or in his majesty's ships of war, his honour is induced to submit to the most serious consideration of the house, the propriety of their adopting some means of relieving the island from its present state of alarm.

"His honour has the satisfaction to add, that the admiral has expressed his readiness to afford any facility in his power, by employing his majesty's artificers in caulking and preparing the vessels for sea, and furnishing provisions and water, at the expence of his majesty's government.

"The probable expence of shipping for three thousand prisoners in cartels to France is estimated at 50,000*l. sterling; but, should the house be of opinion, that it would be more eligible to send off all the commissioned officers, a measure which his honour cannot too strongly recommend, as the admiral's instructions restrict him from permitting them to return to France, the expence of providing accommodation for the officers is estimated at* 40,000*l. sterling.*"

Ordered,

That the above report and two messages be referred to the committee of the whole house, to inquire into and take further into consideration the state of the island:

Mr. Grant, from the committee, appointed to inquire into the effects produced in the manufacture of sugar, on the plan submitted to the assembly by Mr. Charles Blackford, in the session of June, 1801, reported, that they had inquired into that subject, and had the satisfaction of stating to the house, that in several instances his method has been attended with success, and an improvement produced on that grand staple of the island, in manner described in his Observations, printed by order of the house:

Report from committee appointed to inquire into the effects of Mr. Blackford's method of manufacturing sugar.

That the committee, however, were of opinion that his process had not yet been brought to that perfection which would, in every instance (even where it may be precisely attended to), ensure its success, although they think it probably may, if persevered in, by further experiments:

That, in consideration of the various important advantages expected to be derived from this simple and cheap method of improving the quality of sugar, the committee beg leave to state to the house, that they think it will prove beneficial to the general interest of the island, to encourage Mr. Blackford to persevere, for another year, in completing the system he has so nearly effected; and that therefore he should receive some remuneration now, to enable him to pursue it, and an assurance of such compensation hereafter, as his service to the public may deserve:

Resolved,

That the house do agree to the report.

Report from commissioners of public accounts.

Mr. Shaw (of Kingston), from the commissioners appointed by law, for stating and settling the public accounts, reported,

That they present to the house their report of the estimate of ways and means of providing for the contingent expences of government, for the ensuing year, accompanied with the usual statements, viz.

Account of the receipts of cash during the four quarters ending 30th September last; list of debts due by the public, to which the balance of cash is applicable; list of the debts due by the several collecting constables on that day; the particulars of the appropriations granted under the money-bills for 1804; the account of contingencies for 1804, granted under various laws; and the account of slaves, stock, land, &c. in this island, according to the rolls of 1803: These several statements are annexed, and, on due consideration of them, the commissioners have thought it necessary to recommend to the house a poll-tax of 6*s*. 8*d*. for the ensuing year: The commissioners have gone through the examination of such of the collecting constables as were considered under the order of the house, and, although several of them produced arrearage-rolls of great amount (arising in general from the distress of their respective parishes), there are but few subject to censure, in respect to whom the receiver-general has been directed to put their bonds in suit:

The taxes proposed to be raised for the ensuing year, aided by the sums that may be recovered from arrearages, scarcely afford a prospect of reducing the public debt outstanding upon interest, or even that part of it which carries 8 per cent. in any other way than by raising a further sum, at 6 per cent. if this should be found practicable:

The principal of the 8 per cent. debt is now 166,000*l.* and that at 6 per cent. is 65,000*l.* not included in any of the annexed statements.
